BOURSES CLOSED IN BELGIUM AS POLICY BEING FORMULATED

New Government Expected to Declare Intention of Abandoning Gold Standard With Devaluation of Currency—Stiff Parliamentary Battle Probable When Debate Starts

BRUSSELS, March 28 (AP).—Abandonment of the gold standard, a 27 per cent devaluation of the currency and the tying-up of Belgium's franc with the British pound were understood tonight from reliable quarters to be provided in a declaration the new Cabinet will make to parliament.

The Government completed drafting its statement of policy which is expected to require two hours to read and to touch off a stiff parliamentary battle with political groups still standing behind the gold standard.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE
 Premier Paul Van Zeeland, also, it is understood, will suggest that the Bank for International Settlements call an international conference for currency stabilization as soon as possible and propose the denunciation of all commercial treaties.

The Government closed all bourses today for three days to clear the way for announcement of its monetary policies.

Van Zeeland's coalition cabinet, which this week replaced that headed by Georges Theunis, faced stiff opposition in Parliament should it declare for devaluation.

A considerable bloc of legislators favors retaining the franc (the belga, the unit of exchange established in 1926, is equal to five paper francs) at its present gold value.

NO SIGN OF PANIC

Some financiers criticized closing of the bourse as liable to result in heavy currency withdrawals, but the situation, despite the uncertainty and considerable excitement, gave no evidence of tending toward panic.

The newspaper Le Peuple this evening estimated last week's flight of capital from Belgium at 800,000,000 francs, with bank deposits off 1,000,000,000 francs.

(A dispatch from Paris said well-informed financial circles believed the belga would be devalued from 25 to 30 per cent.)

SEATTLE FACES GAS SHORTAGE

Oil Companies Decide to Employ Non-Union Crews to Prevent Famine

SEATTLE, March 28 (AP).—The threat of a gasoline famine here and throughout the state tonight led Daniel W. Hone, of San Francisco, legal representative for the petroleum industry, to inform a meeting of 500 Seattle businessmen that operators will begin at once to move their strike-bound tankers with non-union crews.

Two of the largest oil companies announced their Seattle supplies were exhausted; that one of them will start tomorrow to draw on the pooled supplies of the other companies, and the other will start tapping the pool Saturday.

TWELVE-DAY SUPPLY
 Oil companies' officials estimated the present supply of gasoline here will last twelve days. They announced that they have started rationing fuel oil and diesel oil to industrial users.

Hone, speaking at the Chamber of Commerce, said the whole issue is the closed shop.

"We have granted the wage increases demanded and have improved working conditions," he asserted. "We even offered to arbitrate the closed shop question, but the International Seamen's Union refused to arbitrate and called a strike in the midst of negotiations."

Contribute to Fund To Help Mankind

The magnificent thought of His Majesty the King that those who wish to commemorate his long reign might contribute to a fund for the establishment of research in Canada into the causes and cure of cancer, the dread disease that has claimed so many lives, is meeting with ready response. British Columbia's part in this noble enterprise is to take the form of native placer gold, which will be forwarded to His Majesty in a bowl of British Columbia silver. The gold will be disposed of for the benefit of the fund. Every newspaper in the Dominion is receiving donations on behalf of the fund.

Gigantic Soldier Bonus Bill Expected to Become Law Despite Roosevelt

Issue of $2,000,000,000 Worth of Greenbacks to War Veterans Would Stimulate Retail Trade Temporarily But New Money Would Drive Federal Reserve Notes Out of Circulation

NEW YORK, March 28 (CP).—Adding confusion to the thorny economic path of the Roosevelt administration, again the issue is raised of immediate payment of some $2,000,000,000 to war veterans, the money to be raised by the issuance of greenbacks in the same amount.

The Patman Soldiers Bonus Inflation Bill has passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 228 to 191 against, inflationists supporting the always-powerful group stimulated by a veterans' lobby.

OUTLINE CASE TO GOVERNMENT
 Mayors Meet With Federal Cabinet—Appeal Should Have Been to Provinces

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP).—Forty-five mayors from Canadian towns and cities went home tonight, leaving with the Government a unanimous appeal that the Administration assume the entire cost of direct relief and a suggestion that the cost be defrayed by newly-created money based on the Dominion's wealth.

Before they left, the visitors were tendered a luncheon by Mayor P. J. Nolan and the Ottawa City Council at which Mayor G. H. Barefoot, of St. Boniface, Man., criticized the Government for its refusal Wednesday to permit the party to appear before the bar of the House of Commons.

PERMANENT COMMITTEE
 The mayors appointed a permanent committee, headed by Camille Houde, Montreal's chief magistrate, to be called the "Mayors' Continuing Conference."

Suggestions which the mayors placed before the Government, including that of Mayor G. G. McGee, of Vancouver, that relief costs be defrayed by newly-created money, were received without comment.

TO CONTINUE EFFORTS
 Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, told the mayors the Government would continue to devote its best efforts toward solution of unemployment problems, but reminded them that their appeal should properly have been taken to the Provincial Governments. Constitutionally the Dominion Government may deal with municipalities only through the Provincial Governments which created them.

Today's meeting, with almost a full representation of Cabinet Ministers, was so moderate in tone that it drew from Sir George an expression of appreciation of the manner in which arguments had been presented.

Dance at Moscow After a Warning Of Threat of War
 History of Relations Between Germany and Soviet Union Related at Length by Maxim Litvinoff to Anthony Eden—Convinced Germany's Ultimate Aim Is Eastern Expansion

Details of Berlin Talks Not Made Public in London

MOSCOW, March 28 (CP-Havas).—Complete agreement between Great Britain and the Soviet Union on the European peace problem was indicated by the first interview today between their diplomatic representatives, well-informed quarters here reported.

Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, told of the recent Berlin talks between British and German ministers. Then he and Maxim Litvinoff, People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs, discussed the situation in the light of the Anglo-German talks.

No sign of a divergence of views developed at the meeting, it was learned from an authoritative source tonight.

"As representative of a member country of the League of Nations, I attach the greatest importance to any measure of conciliation and co-operation with the other countries belonging to that body, and especially with the Soviet Union," Eden said tonight.

TO SHOW MOTIVES
 Litvinoff assured Captain Eden the Soviet Union's course in the talks would be to show the British by examples and specific reasons the general motives behind Soviet policy.

He talked at length of the history of German-Soviet Union relations, and showed the development of the conviction among Moscow officials that Germany's ultimate aim was expansion to the east at the expense of the Soviet Union and the Little Entente.

Four points in the German programme are seen in Moscow official circles:

1. Refusal to accept, even for a specified time, an agreement not to

WISHES TO END TERM IN FALL
 Gov.-General May Return Home in October—Cordial Relations Stressed

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP).—The date when the Earl and Countess of Bessborough will leave Canada had not been decided upon, it was learned today.

His Excellency had expressed the wish to conclude his term as Governor-General in time to reach London, where he has extensive business interests, before the end of September, it was stated, but it was regarded likely he would remain in Canada until somewhat later in the fall.

CORDIAL RELATIONS
 Cabinet Ministers spoke of cordial relations that had existed between Lord Bessborough and every member of the Government during his tenure of office.

John Buchan, whose appointment as the next Governor-General, was announced Wednesday, will likely reach Canada shortly after the Earl of Bessborough's departure and will take the oath of office in the port where he disembarks. In the past it has usually been in either Halifax or Quebec.

Cotton and Wool Purchases Large
 ROOBAIX, France, March 28 (CP-Havas).—German purchases of cotton have increased more than five-fold and wool purchases have more than tripled during the past month, it was estimated today.

Official Government quarters were understood to be interested in the purchases, because cotton is used extensively for military purposes.

ROYAL WELCOME FOR KING'S SON
 Duke of Gloucester Greeted by Wildly Cheering Crowds in London

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—The Duke of Gloucester, third son of the King, was welcomed by wildly-cheering crowds today as he returned home after seven months' absence which took him to New Zealand and Australia.

The entire Royal Family, with the exception of the Duke and Duchess of Kent, who are in the West Indies, and a large group of notables participated in the welcoming ceremonies at the station.

A stately procession of horse-drawn carriages then moved toward Buckingham Palace.

GREETED HIS MOTHER
 The tall sun-bronzed duke, in the uniform of the Hussars, kissed the Queen affectionately, first on the hand and then on the cheek, then greeted the others in the throng.

He appeared flattered and flushed at the congratulations as he was greeted by Prime Minister J. A. Lyons, of Australia, who is in Britain for the Silver Jubilee.

His Majesty and the Duke inspected the guard of honor and the Irish Guards. The National Anthem then was played and the carriages drove away.

STORK'S INTENTIONS WRONGFULLY REPORTED
 HAMILTON, Ont., March 28 (CP).—Welfare workers who were all a twitter a few days ago when it was reported a sixty-eight-year-old woman was an expectant mother for the thirtieth time, found out today the stork was nowhere near the woman's home. A physician's report said there was a physical abnormality but there would be no blessed event.

SERIOUS STRIKE THREATS HEARD

Workers in U.S. Automobile and Rubber Industries Considering Walkouts

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—Threats of automobile and rubber strikes were renewed today while an already-embattled NRA fought with its full weight to ward off a walkout of 500,000 soft coal miners next Monday morning.

Francis J. Dillon, American Federation of Labor organizer, told the House labor committee that workers in both the automobile and rubber industries would strike unless Congress enacted the Wagner Labor Disputes Bill or a similar measure.

Discussing conditions in the Detroit plants, Dillon called Henry Ford "the biggest fake in America and the most over-rated man." He described the Detroit manufacturer as the country's largest employer and "the most unscrupulous."

ARE DEADLOCKED
 The NRA governing board late in the day held a two-hour conference with Appalachian soft coal producers and the United Mine Workers, deadlocked in their negotiations toward new wage contracts.

The board heard the situation explained and asked the joint committee to return for another conference tomorrow.

The miners demand an increase of 50 cents a day in their basic daily wage, now $5 in the North and $4.50 in the South, and a thirty-hour work week instead of the present thirty-five hours. The operators offer a one-year renewal of present contracts.

NON-CONFIDENCE VOTE IS PASSED

Leader of Former Supporting Party Brings Defeat of Victoria State Government

MELBOURNE, Victoria, March 28 (CP via Reuters).—The Victoria State Government of Sir Stanley Argyle was defeated in the State Assembly today on a motion of non-confidence by 40 to 23.

The motion was submitted by A. S. Duncan, leader of the Country Party, which a few days ago withdrew its support from the United Australia Party Ministry. Until the recent elections, the Government was a coalition of the two parties and Duncan was Minister of Education in the old Cabinet.

Following the recent decision of the Country Party to sever its connection with the Ministry, the latter was reconstituted, leaving out Duncan. The next step was uncertain.

Sensational Charges Enliven Debate in Alberta Legislature

Member Says Promotion of Son in Civil Service Indirectly Offered as Inducement Against Crossing Floor to Join Liberals

EDMONTON, March 28 (CP).—Charges by Omer St. Germain, Liberal, St. Albert, that the Alberta Government had bargained with him indirectly before he crossed the floor from the United Farmers of Alberta side at the 1934 session, offering his son, Gerard, twenty-five, promotion in the Civil Service, caused a sensation in the Legislature today.

His statements brought sweeping denials from ex-Premier J. E. Brownlee and Premier R. G. Reid, and counter-charges by Hon. George Bowdley, Minister of Health, and O. L. McPherson, former Minister of Public Works, that Mr. St. Germain had endeavored to obtain patronage from the Government.

VICTIM OF CONSPIRACY
 Again Mr. St. Germain stated that because he had crossed the floor to the Liberal side, his son had been

Nanaimo's Mayor Describes Plight Of Coal Industry

Shows Disastrous Results to District From Increasing Use of Fuel Oil—Names Economic Advantages in Use of Coal—Commission Inspects Workings of Local Coal Mines

NANAIMO, March 28 (CP).—A joint brief from the Nanaimo City Council, Board of Trade and Vancouver Island Bureau of Mines was presented to Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, of the Royal Commission, investigating coal and petroleum products in British Columbia, when the commission opened its initial session in Nanaimo today.

The brief presented by Mayor Smith on the south, that has been severely hit by the coal industry, pointing to a decrease of over $4,500,000 in the payrolls of the Canadian Collieries (D.), Ltd., between 1920 and 1933.

Nanaimo was pointed out as a city with 14,37 per cent of its inhabitants on city relief; others in the city and many in the district are drawing provincial relief. Outside the city, from Lantzville to Ladysmith, 1,124 persons are drawing relief.

Substitution of other products than coal for fuel purposes was blamed for the decline in demand for coal, although Vancouver's industrial life has greatly expanded.

A ROCKETING CLIMB
In 1910, 3,500,000 gallons of fuel oil were used in British Columbia. This figure climbed to 149,643,756 gallons in 1930.

Heat value of coal and oil was compared with the brief stating that, according to Mr. Dawson, Dominion Government engineer, a saving of $3,000 had been effected by reverting from coal to oil in Dominion Government buildings in Vancouver.

The brief also pointed out the small number of men used in refining oil in this Province. Only 250 are employed in helping to displace more than ten times that number in the coal trade.

It further cited the danger of British Columbia becoming dependent on an outside source of supply for fuel requirements.

ADVANTAGES OF COAL
Summarizing the brief, Mayor Barsby said the joint committee felt that some of the economic advantages of coal as a fuel, over petroleum were:

1. Will put more men to work thereby putting more money as wages into circulation.
2. Money spent for fuel would be kept in the country to the benefit of all forms of industry.

3. Would completely eliminate relief costs in the mining centres of the Province.
4. Finally, would remove the menace of dependence on outside supplies for fuel.

Suggestions advanced included the sacking of coal at the pithead, establishment of wharves in Vancouver and Victoria by the coal companies for direct sale to the consumers; that the Provincial Government educate people on the value of coal as a fuel.

DEPLETES CHARGES
The brief also deplored the charging of an additional two cents per gallon to Nanaimo dealers by oil companies, as an additional transportation charge on oil and gas products, citing several reasons why it should not be imposed.

J. O. Nicholls, member of the economic council, describing himself as a miner, working daily, addressed the commission from the underground workers' standpoint.

"Coal," he said, "pays a 25 per cent tax for every ton mined, yet oil pays only 1-2 cent a gallon duty. Two hundred gallons are equal to one ton of coal."

The speaker went fully into conditions in the Province, stating that the amount lost in wages could not fully portray the picture.

"I have 2,800 reasons for appearing," he said. The reasons are, 2,800 miners not employed here, due to the depreciation of oil on the coal market.

James Rennie, chairman of the Vancouver Island Bureau of Mines, also spoke, giving several constructive points to be considered by the commission.

The commission will view surface and underground workings of the local mines this afternoon, resuming in the morning.

HOSPITAL SOON TO BE STARTED
Tofino Assumes Responsibility of Undertaking to Benefit West Coast

UCLUELET, March 28. — Plans are now under consideration for the construction of an emergency hospital in Tofino, and are in the hands of a special committee recently appointed, consisting of Dr. J. Robertson, chairman; Major George Nicholson, secretary; J. Arnet, treasurer. The exact situation for the building has not been definitely selected, but several suitable and available locations are being considered, and it is believed that the work on the building will begin very shortly.

NEED KEENLY FELT
Recently, the need for a hospital has been so keenly felt that Tofino has assumed the responsibility of shouldering this undertaking, and it is believed that Tofino will be readily supported by all the other settlements along the coast.

With an increasing population on the West Coast and isolated as it is with no road communication to any larger centres, it is indeed under a handicap in cases of sickness; the nearest hospital being at Port Alberni, and the only other one at Port Alice at the extreme end of the Island.

Accidents will happen in the hazardous work and life on the coast, and until the present time there has been no place to care for an accident case.

OPERATED IN HOTEL
Only about a month ago it was imperative to perform an operation in order to save a life. It was quite impossible to transport the victim to Port Alberni, and the operation was successfully performed on a large table in the local hotel. There was no other alternative. A life was saved, and great praise was given Dr. Robertson; but this instance only accentuated the pressing need of an emergency hospital on the West Coast.

The service which the Ms. Melvin Swartout, of the United Church Marine Mission, and which is in charge of Rev. R. B. Kinney, rendered great aid in many emergency cases, but again, this little ship can only rush the patient to Port Alberni if the weather conditions permit. During the Summer months the mission boat carried a doctor, aboard, but that was discontinued early in the Fall of last year.

WILL CONSIDER DR. WEIR'S PLAN
The question of the bringing of the municipal end of the provincial superannuation act into line with the requirements of actuarial rules, which has been proposed by Hon. Dr. C. M. Weir, will be considered by the Oak Bay Council in committee of the whole.

The proposal of Dr. Weir is that the municipal part be taken up by a committee, representing the municipalities, and consisting of two from Vancouver, one from Victoria, one from New Westminster, and one from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. It is suggested that this body be given the privilege of employing an actuary to prepare a draft, and that the expenses of this be borne by the municipalities.

Refuses to Compel Liquidator to Take Action for Recovery

Effort to Obtain 800,000 Shares of Pioneer Gold Mines of B.C. Fails When Court Turns Down Application

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—An application to compel the liquidator of Pioneer Gold Mines, Ltd., to bring an action against a Vancouver syndicate for recovery of 800,000 shares which Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia, Ltd., paid for the Pioneer Mine, was dismissed in Supreme Court today by Mr. Justice Denis Murphy.

His Lordship held that a sale by the liquidator of the property to the syndicate ten years ago could only be attacked on the ground of fraud and that the question of fraud had not been decided in favor of the syndicate by the Privy Council in February in connection with the Andrew Ferguson appeal.

The syndicate consisted of A. E. Bull, Brig.-Gen. J. D. Duff Stuart, Dr. R. B. Boucher, Dr. Francis Nicholson and the estate of the late Adam H. Wallbridge, all of Vancouver.

MAKES APPLICATION
Application was made by Lloyd Owen, owner of 10,000 shares in the original Pioneer company.

John S. Salter, liquidator, would not bring action without the authorization of the court. The syndicate held a 51 per cent interest in the old company which went into liquidation.

The shares of the existent and operating Pioneer company have a present market value of $10, and on that basis the stock in issue would be worth $8,000,000.

PLAINTIFF'S CLAIM
Owen alleged that the 800,000 shares should go to the old company for the benefit of its shareholders, who would participate according to their holdings.

The Privy Council upheld judgments of the British Columbia courts who dismissed Ferguson's action for 392,000 shares, being a 49 per cent interest in the 800,000 shares. Their Lordships of the Privy Council stated that charges of conspiracy and fraud had not been supported in evidence.

New Chairman For Service Clubs Group

At the annual meeting of the Service Clubs Council of Victoria last evening, Mrs. Madge Hall, president of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, was elected chairman, in succession to Dudley Wickett.

Other officers elected were as follows: Vice-chairman, C. H. French; secretary-treasurer, Travers Gustance (re-elected).

A committee was appointed to look after the arrangements for the entertainment of the men at the relief camp at Otter Point, the hope being expressed that all organizations and groups planning to give concerts or programmes of any kind would communicate through this committee in order to avoid overlapping and confusion.

Alderman John A. Worthington and Stanley Peele (president of the Musicians' Union), attended the meeting as a delegation from the Victoria Day celebration committee and asked for the co-operation of the member clubs in connection with the programme being planned in May. Particular reference was made to a dance to be held at the Empress Hotel on April 25 with the object of raising funds for the celebration.

The secretary was instructed to place on the minutes a memorandum expressing regret at the passing of J. Percy Watson, a valued member of the Service Clubs Council.

INVALID HAS CLOSE CALL

Lays Helpless for Four Days After Her Mother Drops Dead

SHACKLETON, Sask., March 28 (CP).—Mrs. Olga Ricabaugh, thirty-four, lay helpless without a fire, food or water four days after her aged mother dropped dead a week ago at an isolated farm home in the Shackleton district. Ambrose Amell, farmer neighbor, found the invalid woman near death, but she is expected to recover.

Bedridden for years, unable to walk and slowly losing her sight, the younger woman was unable to move when her mother met death outside the house.

Mrs. Isabelle Mary McAfferly, sixty-one, the mother, had gone to a nearby dam to chop ice to permit stock to drink. She apparently started back to the house when she was suddenly stricken with a heart attack.

Mrs. Ricabaugh's husband went to the United States some time ago to seek work. A brother was married recently in California.

MET PRESIDENT ON WAR VESSEL
Duke and Duchess of Kent Visited U.S. Executive on Farragut

MIAMI, March 28.—The Duke and Duchess of Kent, son and daughter-in-law of the King and Queen of England, were yesterday received by President Roosevelt aboard the U.S.S. Farragut, anchored off Cat Cay in the Bahamas Islands.

The titled visitors went aboard, accompanied by the Governor of the Bahamas, Sir Roderic Clifford, and Lady Clifford. The President himself described the meeting between him and the members of the British royal family in a wireless message to his secretary, Marvin H. McIntyre, who is maintaining temporary headquarters here.

IN BRITISH WATERS
Cat Cay is in British waters, although owned by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wasey, of New York, who also went aboard the Farragut to pay their respects to the President.

The chief executive, with the cares of the White House temporarily behind him, is intent upon a week or two of deep-sea fishing.

CHEAP SOAP-CHIPS ARE DANGEROUS

NOTE LUMPS . .

Look out for spotted, smelly clothes . .

LOOK BEYOND the price tag on your soap if you want to save money on washday. Look at your clothes. Think what they cost and consider: Is it safe to risk them with cheap soap-chips?

Do cheap soap-chips smell safe? That strong, unpleasant odor warns you of rancid fats and strong bleaching alkalies. When your clothes fade and weak spots appear—you will say with thousands of other women: "Cheap soap-chips are no bargain."

Poor suds mean hard rubbing. Remember, it takes good, rich soap to make the kind of suds that dissolve grease and dirt quickly. Cheap watery soap makes thin suds. They flatten down into a gray scum instead of flushing the dirt away. You have to rub and RUB. Hard rubbing wears cottons thin . . . shrinks woollens. It's cheaper to buy good safe Chipso and save your clothes!

"We slip up a big thick suds with Chipso," says Mrs. B. McKnight. "Dirt soaks loose in 10 to 15 minutes. Even the towels come white as snow without hard rubbing."

"Chipso Protects Colors"
"There's no smell of anything harsh in Chipso," says Mrs. John Boyle, Jr. "After a year's wear to school, my daughter's wash dresses look as bright as new."

You can see that Chipso is finer, richer, soap. It feels soft and silky . . . smells fresh . . . makes marvelous suds.

Share-the-Wealth Scheme Fostered By C.C.F. Leader

Would Conscript High Incomes and Implements of Production—Member for Cariboo Suggests Governmental Assistance for Low-Grade Gold Mines During Debate on Budget

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP).—A share-the-wealth programme was launched in the House of Commons today by James S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, when he continued the budget debate.

Conscription of high incomes and implements of production was urged by the third-party leader. He criticized the income surtax announced in the budget as a delusion, and could see no reason why an income of $200,000 should not be cut to $40,000 or $50,000 by state taxes. The surtax would cut it to $180,000, apart from other taxes. Minister of Finance E. N. Rhodes pointed out this was only the surtax, and the man must pay his income tax in addition.

NO EARLY DIVISION Fred Shaver (Cons., Stormont) praised the Government's high tariff policy, and set forth his opinion.

Daylight Saving Petition Now Has Over 2,000 Names

A PETITION couched in the following terms is making the rounds of the city and will be presented to Mayor David Leeming and aldermen: "We, the undersigned, wish to go on record as being in favor of the daylight saving measure now being considered by yourselves, and we petition you to give this measure your unbounded approval."

Yesterday the appeal had been signed by over 2,000 employees of stores, offices and the Parliament Buildings.

position to the removal of the 11-2 per cent excise duties on British imports.

Ernie Willis (Cons., Souris) stressed the benefits to agriculture initiated by the Government, particularly the market stabilization efforts of John I. McFarland, head of the central selling agency of the wheat pools. He said it would be a calamity if the wheat was dumped on the market today, when prospects were bright for scarcity and higher prices.

NATIONAL PENSION

A national pension scheme to increase purchasing power was endorsed by Dr. Gershaw, who suggested monthly payments of $50 to every man and woman over the age of sixty. The money could be drafted from excessive profit taxes and currency expansion.

Mr. Woodsworth said the Government this year and last had broken new legislative ground, "but I submit that the programme offers no solution of our outstanding economic problems." The C.C.F. leader pressed the Liberals to state their alternative policies. It was not enough for them to urge a general election.

Two Noted Flyers Meet

Jokes flew fast and hard when Amelia Earhart Putnam, famous woman flyer, and Wiley Post, around-the-world and stratosphere pilot, met at Cleveland airport. Amelia was planning a good will flight to Mexico, but was undecided as to where the take-off would be made. Post was on the way to the Pacific Coast to prepare for another transcontinental stratosphere hop.

No Divergent View At First Armament Talk Held in Russia

FORCES ARE LOW BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 28 (AP).—Although Europe is resounding with the marching feet of increasingly larger armies, Great Britain's strength, both on land and sea, is less than before the Great War, Viscount Halifax, Secretary of State for War, said tonight.

Citing figures at a political meeting to show that Britain has set a disarmament example, Viscount Halifax said the regular army outside of India was 185,000 before the war, whereas it is 152,000 today; and the territorial army had an actual enlisted strength of 245,000 in 1913, against 130,000 now.

He placed the navy's strength at 48 per cent of the 1914 level.

STORM TROOPS PASS BERLIN, March 28 (CP-Havas).—Nazi Storm Troops, as the "right arm" of the Government, have passed into the history of the Third Reich. Compulsory military service has completed their decline, begun last June with the new historic "Roehm Revolt."

It was learned today that the brown-shirted marchers who carried Adolf Hitler to power and held him there have been disbanded. More than two-thirds of them have been dismissed, and those remaining will be demobilized and considered "political workers," thus leaving the armed force of Germany in the hands of the Reichswehr. The Storm Troops' chief, Victor Lutze, is said to have already resigned.

About 1,000,000 of the 3,500,000 troops are all who remain in the ranks. The best of those dismissed, presumably, will be conscripted in Germany's new army. Execution of Capt. Ernest Roehm during the "Blood Purge" on June 30 last marked the beginning of the reorganization after a long period of strained relations between the troops and the Reichswehr.

TO DECIDE ATTITUDE

The task of British statesmen at the moment is to decide Great Britain's future attitude to the European problem in the light of the Berlin talks and the coming three-power conference in Stresa, Italy, under the leadership of the present British Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, made an eagerly-awaited statement to the House of Commons today, but he revealed nothing that was not already known unofficially: that "considerable divergences of opinion" were found to exist between the British and German conferees.

It is becoming more and more clear these "considerable divergences of opinion" are on fundamental principles. The situation, however, in this connection, said tonight, seems to be crystallizing into one of the "power theory" as opposed to the collective security theory in European politics.

The task of British statesmen at the moment is to decide Great Britain's future attitude to the European problem in the light of the Berlin talks and the coming three-power conference in Stresa, Italy, under the leadership of the present British Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden.

Workmen Killed By Poison Gas

SULMONA, Italy, March 28 (AP).—A number of workmen were reported killed today by poison gas when a reservoir of liquid chlorine burst in a chemical factory.

First reports said many workmen, the number not immediately determined, died inside the building, while others, who escaped to the open air, died as the result of the fumes they had inhaled.

SUPERIOR IN AIR

LONDON, March 29 (AP).—The Daily Mail said today Adolf Hitler had informed Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, that Germany already has an air force numerically stronger than Great Britain's.

The Daily Mail did not reveal the source of its information, but it was known that Sir John Simon returned from Berlin with documents presented to him by Hitler in which, it is understood, Dr. Fuhrer frankly revealed the extent of Germany's armaments in the air.

The disclosure of Germany's air strength was reported to have caused grave concern to the British Cabinet. Ministers held several informal meetings for a preliminary discussion on what is expected to be a "showdown" debate on the entire German situation when Capt. Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, re-

MR. BUCHAN'S APPOINTMENT

Those who know of the writings of Mr. John Buchan, of his scholarship, of his high character, of his ripe and experienced ability in political affairs, of the fact that marks the whole tenor of his life, will welcome his appointment as Governor-General of Canada to succeed His Excellency, Lord Bessborough. It is a notable choice in every way, for one of similar achievements has never hitherto been selected for the office. He will bring to Rideau Hall graces richly cultivated in a life crowded with literary achievement, a personality that has made its mark in the political annals of his country, and a presence that has the faculty of inspiring confidence in his powers of thought and vision.

Mr. Buchan belongs to that race of quiet but eminently resourceful men who, through the centuries, have contributed unstintingly, but none the less surely, to making the British Empire what it is today. He is one of those who, innately and by studious inclination, has his background in history itself. His choice as a pro-consul of Empire, and in the chief of His Majesty's Overseas Dominions, was wholly unexpected. There is but one reaction to it, however, and that of the most pleasurable anticipation. Canada is wholly honored by the selection, and Mr. Buchan is deserving in every sense of joining the illustrious roll of those who have been His Majesty's representatives in this Dominion.

ARROGANCE IN OFFICE

Mayor McGeer of Vancouver has been illustrating to Easterners that he is possessed of a hobby that lies in the effort to be spectacular in the use of words, and as a consequence those words often run far ahead of any sense of responsibility. As a fount of verbiage, and of phrases which if dissected have no particular meaning in the context of mere fact, he is perpetually overflowing. He is the talker, par excellence, but since his election to the Mayoralty of Vancouver there is little else that he has done in the way of effecting betterments in either the financial or moral character of that city.

British Columbia will not be proud of the figure cut by Mr. McGeer in his appearance, among other mayors of Canadian cities, before a representation of the House of Commons at Ottawa. His language in threatening to defy the law is simply the outburst of an hyperbolic personage. It will not impress Parliament. The probability is that those who heard it were just pityingly amused. There is a point at which the use of forceful language descends to puerility. Mr. McGeer's threat of leading a riot, if his dictates are counteracted by the courts, will neither enhance his own reputation nor aid the cause of Vancouver. If he thinks that bluff will aid the hands of the members at Ottawa he has the poorest kind of conception of Federal responsibility. The only impression that will remain on the public mind of Mr. McGeer's performance at the capital will be that he has attempted to crowd the role of the Three Tailors of Tooley Street into one character.

VANCOUVER ISLAND'S ROADS

It stands to reason that if the Provincial Government is going to be in any sense a partner in the encouragement of the tourist industry it must maintain the roads of Vancouver Island in a condition that will encourage travel. Those roads suffered heavily through rains of the past winter. The Island Highway at many points is in poor condition, in a condition, in fact, which increases the possibility of accident. Most tourists now-a-days are motorists; they will only travel where road conditions are good, and it is only in the matter of roads that those who are endeavoring to foster the traffic can look to the Provincial Government for assistance. Otherwise it is a negligible factor in the encouragement of the industry.

Of the outlay that is proposed for the coming fiscal year on the maintenance of roads in British Columbia the amount allocated to Vancouver Island is disproportionate to the importance of this part of the Province. There has been too great neglect in this respect during the past two years. The people here realize that it is impossible to expect the Government to construct any new roads at the present time, but what they have the right to believe is that the existing roads, and particularly the Island Highway and its tributaries, will be maintained in good shape. The Government's policy now leaves much to be desired. Here is one illustration in point:

On a short by-road from the Island Highway to the Cameron Lake Chalet there is a sixty-foot-long wooden bridge, built by the Provincial Government and now condemned as unsafe. Why, instead of condemning it, does not the Government carry out the necessary repairs to make it safe for traffic? Cameron Lake is the jumping-off point for most of the parties that visit Mount Arrowsmith. It is a favorite Island resort, where the facilities better, would become more popular still. If the roadway is closed the only access to that part of Cameron Lake will be by rail, which means that motorists will be precluded. The Cameron Lake resort is the only one within reach of the highway between Parksville and the Alberni, and is a definite link in the chain of scenic spots on Vancouver Island, not only on account of the beauties of the lake, but because also of the proximity of Cathedral Grove, where there is one of the finest stands of timber left in British Columbia.

It will be the wish of all residents of Vancouver Island, for their own pleasure and to facilitate opportunities for tourist traffic, that the by-road from the Island Highway to Cameron Lake Chalet should be maintained. A new bridge over the lake-end is not wanted; all that is required is necessary repairs to the present structure. It is a work that should be carried out automatically. The Provincial Government gives a poor advertisement to its own undertakings when it condemns a structure it is responsible for and then does nothing about the matter.

MISS JANE TOLMIE

The old and time-honored family of Tolmie will receive condolences from every quarter in this community and from many parts of British Columbia in the loss of another member. Miss Jane Work Tolmie was, like her brothers and sisters, a native of Saanich, and her life was spent on Vancouver Island. It was a life lived in a retired way, but one rich with good deeds and a full appreciation of the duties that she owed the community. In this respect she shared the spirit of loyalty to her native land which has been a tradition of the family that has become so well known. Her passing severs another link with the old days and recalls memories of the early struggles of the pioneers who laid the foundations of the British Columbia as we know it today. The deepest sympathy of all who knew her, and of that larger circle still who have learned to respect the family name, will go out to Messrs. S. F. and H. W. Tolmie, her brothers, and Miss Josette C. Tolmie, her sister, as well as to other members of the family who survive.

BASKETBALL HONORS

There is nothing to choose in skill and merit between the Blue Ribbons and the University of British Columbia basketball players. In a series of five games for the provincial title the local team won, but only by the margin of one point in the final game. Either team would probably be an equally formidable representative of British Columbia in the fight for Dominion honors. It is naturally a source of considerable gratification to Victoria's enthusiasts in the sport that the Blue Ribbons should have won, and their further fortunes will be followed with the keenest interest. The popularity of the sport is attested to by the fact that in the games here the gymnasium used was much too small to accommodate all who wanted to attend. That is yet another argument, if one were needed, in favor of the establishment of a large auditorium in Victoria where such contests and similar exhibitions can be held. Basketball as one game has furnished an example that we are lagging behind in providing facilities for our public.

The price to be paid for the socialization of medicine in Saskatchewan is estimated to be $3,000,000 per annum, money that must come from the pockets of the taxpayers. Despite all alleged actuarial estimates, the cost in this province would probably be almost as great. It has yet to be shown that the health of any country where socialized medicine is in force is better than where it does not prevail. Governments, however, in these latter days, do not consider they are governing unless they continually expand their opportunities of spending the people's money.

An English judge has laid down a principle affecting a mother's right to her child that will be approved by the general instinct of parenthood. There must be, he said, "some overwhelming reason connected with the welfare of a child—some serious matter essential to its welfare—before it can be taken from its mother." That is the judgment of Solomon himself in modern-day usage.

LIFE'S SURPRISES

Life is always opening new and unexpected things to us. There is no monotony in living to him who walks even the quietest and tamest path with open and perspective eyes. The monotony of life if monotonous to you, is in it, not in the world.

Can't Phase (or Phrase) the "Orish"

The inquiry received as to whether quinquets should be pronounced quintu-plets or quinquets reminds one of the reply of the Irishman who was asked whether he said nee-ther or neigh-ther. He answered, "Nay-ther."

Guanter Gauntlets, or What?

Before women won the franchise, before their emancipation raised them to an equality with men in the pursuit of what are now their lawful occasions, they had smaller hands than they have today. Before 1914 the most popular size of women's gloves was 5½. Only the exceptions among women-kind can wear such gloves now, for the main demand is for sizes 6 and 6½, while there is a steady call for sizes up to 7½. It is not only greater indulgence in sports that has increased the size of the feminine hands and wrists; there is the desire, as well, for more comfort in gloves that will slip on and off quickly. Women, too, nowadays have greater handfulls of responsibility.

Color Scheme Washout

Out of the Harlem rioting recently came the story of the Chinese laundryman who shared the fears of other shop owners that hoodlums would smash their windows. Then the Oriental noticed shopkeepers were painting their windows with huge white letters the word "colored." Up went his sign, "Me Colored Too." His window was broken, however.—W. J. H.

All's Oke in Oak Bay

The council of Oak Bay is still living up to the record established by previous councils in that municipality, which is contained in the homely proverb to cut your garment according to your cloth. The necessary amounts to take care of sinking funds and to prepare for the discharge of debts as they come due are also carried out with religious regularity. As a result, the establishment of the municipal bank, the reputation of municipal debts and other more or less popular movements of the day are not heard in Oak Bay.—O. H. N.

Dummy Surplus

In Soviet Russia they are making plays without properties, and using dummies for actors. In Hollywood they stage plays without properties and use actors for dummies.—R. A. G.

Cause Worth Helping

No more fitting manner of celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of His Majesty George V and Her Majesty Queen Mary could have been devised than that which Their Majesties suggested, the establishment of a fund for the aid of research into the cancer problem. It was also a happy thought that suggested that British Columbia's gift should be in the form of British Columbia gold to be used for that noble objective . . . and in the same breath . . .

Do It Properly

Before going to Ottawa to discuss the effects of the British North America Act on Canadian provinces, it would be a good thing for Premier Pattullo to examine the Act of Union of 1866 and all the surrounding circumstances. If he would, he would discover that Vancouver Island has just as strong a claim for better terms from the Provincial Government as British Columbia has from the Dominion.—B. A. M.

Fuss on Fleet Street

With a Dash of Cricket and So Forth

By H. T. M.

Of course this is nothing but a literary squabble. In fact, everything herein recorded is pitifully cockeyed and askew.

But you can blame it all on a gent (World's Bestiast Friend) that I met one scurry day in London—a gent that swore strenuously that he knew the ins and outs of Fleet Street better than his own underwear—and that same fello fellow told me that in order to shake my way into the heart of Fleet Street, four things were absolutely necessary—in fact, vital. They were (according to this outstanding piece of Camembert):

1. Ability to speak the Proper English language.
2. To become a Proper snob.
3. Ditto, ditto, a Proper cad.
4. Do, do, a Proper cricketer.

Naturally, my grey, anaemic mind absorbed these grizzly falsities—and the following haze will show more or less what actually did not happen.

Saga begins here:

For six irritating weeks I was snubbed by every editor on Fleet Street—and believe me, sirs, that was an unholty amount of snubbing. "You're a Canadian," they consistently mumbled, "and it's no use pestering us with stuff about tomatohawks, beavers and tall-timers—write something that would interest English people—and then, perhaps, you'll get a small cheque from us."

So "quite, quite," thought I—but just how can I write entertainingly for the English public when I don't even know the difference between a fox or a felloek; or whether Bunny Austin is an abnormally small automobile or a tennis player; or whether Barclay's Banks are pubs, or vice versa? So you see how difficult it all was—or don't you?

Whether you do or you don't, I now insist on telling you how I (on the advice of World's Bestiast Friend) cleverly dismissed all thoughts and fond remembrances of grizzly bears, cow-punchers and other memorable (if hairy) Canadian commodities from my mind, and suddenly became frightfully "pukkah," or Old English, or Old George Arliss, or whatever you care to call it.

SPEAK ENGLISH, YOU BOUNDER!

So, first and foremost (Bungo, you cads!) I became a proper scholar of the Proper English language.

This was elatingly simple, for, as I squatted among the pigeons (a risky thing to do without an umbrella, sirs!) on the dome of St. Paul's one sunny Saturday morning, I listened to the English nation conversing this way:

A—"Hello, old boy, old boy, old boy—er how are you?"

B—"DEFFinitely in the pink, old thing, old thing, old thing."

A—"Not DEFFinitely, old boy, old boy?"

B—"Yes, DEFFinitely, old thing, old thing."

A—"Nonsense, old boy, old boy. You're DEFFinitely pulling my leg."

B—"DEFFinitely not" (O.B. O.B. as per before).

A—"DEFFinitely?"

B—"DEFFinitely!"

BIT OF A SNOB, WHAT?

Huzzah! (Old English war-cry meaning "Whoopie!"), for in less than a trice I had DEFFinitely learned English, and then the next move, of course, was to become a Proper snob.

That wasn't quite so easy, because you can't be a proper snob without owning a "blooded gelding" or a shooting box in the Highlands, or a foreign wife (or similar perflage) with which to embed your face upon the pages of The Prater or The Stylender—so I had to manoeuvre things in a more mundane sort of way. Primance—one Thursday morning with the "Old School Tie" in one hand and an autographed photo of the Prince of Wales in the other, I swaggered into Canada House, where clumps of bolster-cheeked Canadians were chattering about ice hockey and fumbling with Canadian newspapers. "Hello," they all said cheerily—whereupon I (world's greatest snob in embryo) immediately cut them, and coldly asked a Commissioner if Lord

Poonah had called for me that morning—and if so, had he entered my Fleet Mignon for the Grand Gnashional—and if not, why not? There no telegrams from the Head-master of Harrow, inviting me to "Speaker," or "Ducker," or anything sim'lar, on top of the dear old "Hiller." To which, "No, sir," murmured the Commissioner. "This is Canada House, sir—I think you must be looking for the Oval or Lord's, sir." "Quite, quite, my good man," I interrupted truculently. "Of course I'm looking for Lord's—I never look for the common people—er, thank you—and now, please, call me a taxi."

He called me something a lot smellier than a taxi, and then I had to run like hell—for my Canadian pals (and I was still cutting them, like thistles) were beginning to emit low animal noises and pawing around for heavy books and pokers, etc., so I skipped out into Trafalgar Square, feeling frightened but quite, quite English—and why not, sirs, for had I not learned the English language and become a proper snob in less than half an hour? Yes, indeed! I'd done all of that, swiftly, and with commendable sang-froid—and now the next thing was to become a proper cad.

JOINING THE CADS CLUB

Now, to become a proper cad entails buying the proper clothes. So first I darted into the Simply Thrilling Tailors and snapped up a Simply Thrilling suit for simply fifty shillings—whence I soon emerged feeling and looking like the World's Most Splendid Cad—with a waist like a whippet, hips like Bartlett pears, and shoulders like a full-blown, hooded cobra.

Next I purchased a mauve and green sports car, with exhaust pipes forty feet long, in which I careened down Piccadilly, buffeting old ladies and horses, and shouting "Hell, Hitler!" at the top of my caddish lungs, sirs.

By roaring deliciously through Piccadilly in a Simply Thrilling suit and a mauve and green check sports car and so on won't quite win you a scholarship in the Best School for Cads, sirs. Dear, no! To graduate (with honors) from the Best School for Cads necessitates doing something DEFFinitely cras, or damncruff, . . . so that very evening (Tuesday, 10th inst., I believe) I won Cads First Eleven Colors by tottering stone blind (in the alcoholic sense) into the Portland Club, where I promptly told old Colonel Blastedmaul (late Bengal 'Prancers, retired) that he was cheating in his particular game of contract—also that he was a putrid judge of port—and, lastly, that his wife (Agatha) and his daughter (Amelia) were at the moment on their way to Blackpool with a couple of effervescent young curates from Little Tooting . . . whereupon Colonel Blastedmaul turned the color of bad meat and began horse-whipping me within an inch of my life . . . and what more could a true cad's heart cry out for than a "with-in-an-inch-of-the-life horsewhipping" from a foam-flecked retired colonel?

Nothing—and now all I needed to become thoroughly English were a few traditions and ancestors. But, alas! and alack! how I lacked them! Oh! what a crying shame! Maybe I could get some from Lost in (Austin) Reeds. Possibly. But would they be staunch, reliable "pukkah" old chappies—blokes that had bumped off innumerable bumpers of mead, etc., with the Black Prince of Agincourt? Or would they even be of rare old Saxon fibre—or even aged in the wood, dyed in the wool, nipped in the bud, and so on?

THE UNEMPLOYED YOUTH

Sir,—In the tail of Mr. T. Thirkell's letter in your issue of March 27 there was a salutary sting that penetrated my skin. It was his question: "Again I plead, what of youth?" I venture to join my pleading with his.

The needs of the unemployed lie heavy on our hearts—especially those of the young. G. B. Shaw once defined hell as a perpetual bank holiday. Many of the unemployed are living in "a perpetual bank holiday," minus the feasting usually associated with a bank holiday. A mother recently said of her twenty-one-year-old boy: "I see my son, who has done nothing for two years, deteriorating before my eyes, and I seem helpless." It is difficult to exaggerate the evils of protracted unemployment. There is a real danger of the existence in the community of a separate class, isolated, branded, humiliated, menacing. And it is grossly unfair that a disproportionate share of the trouble should fall on one section of the community. I frequently see signs of its deplorable results—health suffers through malnutrition or under-nutrition, the harvest of which has yet to be reaped; the unity of family life is endangered, for often when "poverty comes in at the door, love flies out of the window"; it is very surprising if the mother nags, and the father is furious or moody, and the young son, bothered, they feel that life is a mere futility, frustration and mockery. "Educated poverty makes men restless," said Benjamin Kidd a generation ago. It is being exemplified in our midst today. And if anyone thinks the underdog an ungrateful growling beast, I say to that person: "Put yourself in the place of the underdog and see how you would like it."

I ask, with all the earnestness I can command: "Can nothing, even yet, be done to provide work for the unemployed youth? I am not belittling the opportunities of physical development that during the winter months have been provided at the Memorial Hall, but they do not meet the real moral problem to which I have adverted—the sense of not being wanted, the feeling that there is nothing to live for, and that nothing is of any good. In England, the Quakers have fostered useful efforts in the shape of garden allotments, etc., other Christian bodies have encouraged certain handicrafts, sometimes the unemployed men have formed small groups themselves and organized productive work. At the moment, I have no specific or detailed knowledge of these schemes. I know they cannot adequately solve the gigantic problem of unemployment, but they alleviate its rigors. Can it be that in Victoria we have exhausted all our resources of practical help? Surely, if men of social-mindedness, good will and practical experience might, together, some useful, efficient result. I cannot yet resign myself either to our present tragedy or to the belief that we are utterly beaten and hopelessly disgraced. Who will make a move?"

Cecil J. Quaintan.

Dean of Columbia, The Deanery, Victoria, B.C., March 28, 1935.

IN DEFENCE OF THE GRAND NATIONAL

Sir,—In this morning's Colonist you speak of the "thirty-two cruel jumps." Why cruel? It may be of interest to you to know that some years ago another person, talking of something he knew nothing about, made the same remark, and a discussion took place. One of the people present bet ten pounds that any real good hunter could jump the National course and that he had one that could do it. The bet was taken

UNEMPLOYED YOUTH

Sir,—Mr. T. Thirkell's letter of the 26th instant deals with one of those social questions of vital importance to which the members of the Legislature evidently have not given much thought, namely, the question of our unemployed young men in our cities and camps.

To suggest that these young men, many of them professionally or commercially trained, should be sent away in the woods to construct roads, etc., is not exactly a satisfactory solution of the problem. These jobs at best are only temporary; there is no prospect of settled businesses or positions in them and hence no prospect of building up homes.

Perhaps the members have not seen in, or on their way, to the camps; this might explain their apparently "not interested" attitude.

Last year a committee was formed in Victoria to look into the unemployed question and it was found that there would be room for all the young men now in camp in filling the positions held at present by young women in Victoria not in need of their positions. Many of the young ladies now employed have families without employment! (The employers and not the employees are at fault goes without saying.)

Our legislators could have made one law making it compulsory to all employers to give, whenever possible, the preference to male help. Does not Nature herself teach us, as for instance in the animal life, that it is the male who provides for the female and its young? And who played men have formed small groups themselves and organized productive work. At the moment, I have no specific or detailed knowledge of these schemes. I know they cannot adequately solve the gigantic problem of unemployment, but they alleviate its rigors. Can it be that in Victoria we have exhausted all our resources of practical help? Surely, if men of social-mindedness, good will and practical experience might, together, some useful, efficient result. I cannot yet resign myself either to our present tragedy or to the belief that we are utterly beaten and hopelessly disgraced. Who will make a move?"

Banquet Given in Honor of Veterans Of Riel Rebellion

Col. J. S. Dennis Tells Entire Story of Early Northwest Warfare—Asks Old Campaigners to Help Keep Canada Within British Empire

"OLD Soldiers Never Die, They Only Fade Away," was the favorite song of the evening and the sentiment repeatedly expressed last night in Spencer's dining-room, when the British Campaigners' Association honored twenty-old veterans of the Riel or the 1885 Northwest Rebellion.

Battles of Fish Creek, Duck Lake, Cut Knife Creek and Batoche were fought again in fancy, as old campaigners exchanged reminiscences and listened to Col. J. S. Dennis, C.M.G., who led the famous Dennis Scouts, recount the story of Riel's exploits and subsequent events.

Colonel Dennis, at the conclusion of his address, declared the veterans still had a duty to perform, that of insuring Canada be kept within the British Empire. He referred to the great influence of United States money interests in the Dominion and warned against the influence of the greater nation on the smaller. His remarks were met with enthusiastic applause.

EXTENDS WELCOME

The speaker, on behalf of the veterans, welcomed General Sir Percy Lake and General Sir Charles Delme-Radcliffe. Others at the head table were: Col. Lorne Ross, president of the British Campaigners' Association, who presided; Capt. W. C. Warren, Col. James Lightbody, Major P. T. Stern, Bishop G. E. Lloyd and Allan Cameron, Vancouver.

Colonel Ross introduced a resolution that was heartily endorsed. It will be forwarded to the King. It follows:

"Veterans of the 1885 Northwest Rebellion and members of the British Campaigners' Association, gathered at Victoria to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the campaign, send Your Majesty assurance of continued loyalty and devotion, and congratulations on your Silver Jubilee."

Captain Warren proposed a toast to the veterans, and in doing so, spoke of similar commemorative gatherings held years before in the same premises, but then known as the Drift Hotel. He told of seeing, as a small boy, the contingents leaving the East for the Northwest frontier fifty years ago.

UNITS REPRESENTED

He called out the names of the various units that took place in the Northwest Rebellion, and representatives of these units stood up, representing the Bolton Scouts, General Middleton's Battalion, Montreal Carabniers, Toronto Grenadiers, Royal Canadian Artillery, Dennis Scouts, Steele's Scouts, Toronto Queen's Own, 91st Winnipeg Light Infantry, York and Simcoe Rangers, Transport Section and Northwest Home Guard.

During the evening Miss Owen Rodstrom, former field matron at Poundmaker's Indian Reserve, was introduced with her mother, Mrs. Peter Rodstrom. They are now residents of Victoria.

Poundmaker, after whom the reservation was named, was an Indian chief who aided Riel in the rebellion of 1885, and finally surrendered to General Middleton at Battleford.

Robert Morrison gave a number of solos during the evening, and Leonard Foster played several tunes on a tin whistle. Percy Fletcher was the accompanist.

TWO AVIATORS LOST IN CRASH

Accident Halts Sensational Night Battle Manoeuvres of U.S. Fleet

LOS ANGELES, March 28 (AP).—Tragedy halted sensational night battle manoeuvres of the United States fleet off Southern California last night when a bombing plane from the aircraft carrier Lexington plunged into the ocean.

Two flyers, Lieut. Edwin G. Kelly and Aviation Machinist Mate R. C. Carillo, both of San Diego, were carried to their deaths.

Radio orders were flashed from Admiral J. M. Reeves, commander-in-chief to the hundred battleships, carriers, cruisers and destroyers, to cease battle manoeuvres and search for the victims.

OTHERS RETURN SAFELY

The crashed bomber was one of the VB-18 squadron of eighteen bombers from the Lexington. The other seventeen bombers returned safely to the deck of the carrier. There were several hundred planes engaged in the secret tactical night exercises, a prelude to the annual fleet problem to be staged in the North Pacific Ocean, May 3 to June 10.

Searchlights from a hundred naval craft stabbed the darkness in the waters off Southern California some twenty miles north of San Diego.

Destroyers were the first to reach the scene. Bits of wreckage were found on the water, indicating that the big bomber apparently dove into the ocean under power and cracked up, the engine and fuselage sinking and carrying down the bodies of the two victims. No traces of the bodies were found. Navy officers reported that the depth of the ocean at the point, northwest of La Jolla, would make salvage operations impossible.

ADDRESSES BIG AUDIENCE HERE

Tim Buck, Leader of Communists, Discusses Problems of Working Class

Between 800 and 900 persons, crammed the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium here last night to hear Tim Buck, national secretary of the Communist Party of Canada and recognized leader of the movement in the Dominion, deliver a two-hour-and-twenty-minute address on working-class problems and a review of some of the reform policies of the Federal Government.

Mr. Buck, who has been widely acclaimed by members and supporters of the Communist party on his present tour of the Dominion, came into prominence at the time of the Kingston Prison riots that brought about a Government investigation. He was then serving a three-year term for violation of Section 98 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

MILD ADDRESS

He is a mild-mannered man and his address last night was not of the radical type. In fact Victoria audiences have heard more radical addresses in election campaigns. He is not a forceful speaker, but presents his arguments in an explanatory manner.

A Plan to Finance Your Future

Modern life insurance plans are so varied and flexible that they can be adapted to any personal or family requirements.

Great-West Life policies will provide an income for your wife and children for a given number of years or for life; bring you a guaranteed income for life at any selected age; provide a specified sum in cash at any age you wish; furnish the necessary funds to educate your children, or guard against any contingency which might face yourself or your family in the future.

Is it any wonder that millions of Canadian men and women have made plans to finance their future in this safe, sure and inexpensive way? For instance, if you are in the Preferred Risk Class, a little less than 30c a day (age 35) will provide $5,000 protection under the Great-West Preferred Whole Life plan, and you share, as well, in the profits of the Company.

Great-West Life profit-sharing policies are both safe and profitable—whether you live to a good old age or not.

FIRE ZONES OF VICTORIA MAY CHANGE

New Plans Would Permit Construction of Cheaper Buildings Here

UNDERWRITERS AGREE TO COMMITTEE IDEA

Drastic and far-reaching changes in Victoria's Zoning and Building By-Laws are being worked out by a committee composed of Aldermen Walter Luney and T. W. Hawkins, with Fire Chief Alexander Munro and Duncan K. Kennedy, building inspector. Their object is to change boundaries of the fire insurance zones so as to permit construction of cheaper buildings.

At present the city is divided into two fire zones. One zone includes the central section, with buildings of brick, concrete and steel, while the other embraces areas containing more inflammable structures. The committee has divided the city into three zones, there being a separate category for part of the Industrial Reserve, sawmill district and waterfront property, which formerly was in zone number two. The original areas of zones one and two have been considerably reduced.

ORDINARY SHINGLES

This will mean that those on the border of the old zones, who have previously had to reshingle roofs with fireproof material, will now be able to use ordinary shingles. It will also be possible to erect frame buildings in some parts of the city where this type of construction formerly was barred.

Fire insurance underwriters so far have approved of the contemplated changes in zoning, which means that rates will not be increased. They also feel that the three-zone idea of the committee will improve conditions from a fire hazard point of view. At the end of next month a full report will be submitted to the Builders' Exchange, Architects' Association and underwriters for their opinions.

Congressional Conference End Deadlock Over Measure—Early Passage Is Now Expected

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—Striking down the controversial Thomas silver inflation amendment, weary Congressional conferees tonight broke a forty-eight-hour deadlock and reached a complete agreement on President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill.

The largest appropriation measure in United States history emerged in a form sure to be approved by the President. Arrangements were made in advance to make possible final House action of the measure tomorrow. It will then be rushed to the Senate for a vote on the changes made in conference.

System Change Salvation for Youth Is Claim

Destruction of the capitalist system was necessary before youth could find employment, contended Don Smith, of the Federated Council of Youth, in an address on "Youth of Today and Tomorrow," delivered before the Victoria West Community Forum last night in the Victoria West United Church.

The meeting was the last of the current season. A new series of addresses will be started next Fall. Rev. W. R. Brown, pastor of the church, presided.

There was not much hope for the youth of today under the capitalist regime, declared Mr. Smith. Capitalistic machinery had displaced man-power, output exceeding the supply. As long as machines were producing more than could be consumed, youth would not be able to find its way.

Mr. Smith proposed that the system be changed and only enough to supply the demand be produced.

H. Folsom, Retired Wall Street Banker, Charges Too Many Experiments

Conditions in the United States do not look good, Clyde H. Folsom, retired New York City banker, candidly admitted in an interview at the Empress Hotel last night. Eight years ago he withdrew from the Wall Street investment firm of Folsom & Adams.

American people were distressed, he declared, and went on to say that until business knew just what Washington was going to do in a permanent way it would not step forward. He admitted he was a Republican and believed that, had a Republican President been at the head of affairs, America would today be out of the depression. He blamed the present condition to "too many experiments."

Mr. Folsom, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary Folsom, graduate of Smith College, arrived yesterday from Honolulu, where they spent the winter. He said they thoroughly enjoyed the Hawaiian Islands and were looking forward to an equally enjoyable stay in Victoria.

STATES TRUTH UNDER OATH

Saskatoon Woman Reveals In Sworn Statement how Fruit-a-tives Rid Her of Chronic Constipation

So that everyone can be sure of the absolute truth of her experience, Miss Helen Pascarik, 1316 22nd St. West, Saskatoon, tells of it in a statement made under oath before a notary. She generously consented to do this in order to let other sufferers know what Fruit-a-tives did for her. Miss Pascarik's statement reads:—"As a child, and during my teen-age, I suffered severely from chronic constipation which kept me continually restless. Then I read of Fruit-a-tives and started to take them. After the first box I noticed immediate improvement. THE BEAUTIFUL DERELICT

IT STARTS SUNDAY IN THE DAILY COLONIST

"How my Father raised a Family on $1 a Day" A Real Life Experience as told by Mrs. F.A.C.

WHEN my father married he was just 24. His job brought him only 90c a day. My parents first task was to get about buying a small home. Their next move was to take out Life Insurance. As time went on there were five children. My father's wage was eventually raised to one dollar out of which we had to clothe and feed our large family—and still pay the premium on Life Insurance.

For 20 years my father worked from 7 to 6 o'clock without a day off. Then he began to show the effects. Whenever he sat down he would fall asleep. By this time my two eldest brothers had good jobs in the city. They persuaded my father to sell his house and move to the coast. Although he found work, he was not suited to it and turned back to Western Canada after five years.

He bought land and set to work, content that at last he had found the life he longed for—land for his sons; a home and independence in time for his family. Then a sad thing happened. While putting in his first crop he was stricken with paralysis. His insurance policy contained a disability feature. It was like a God-send as there was no money from the farm thus far. This insurance money kept him comfortably provided for until he died four years later.

An early frost had ruined the crop. There was no ready money. It was a crisis and his insurance money "saved the day." All accounts were paid. We bought the adjoining quarter section, a snap for cash. The first crop replaced the money easily. The children were given a good education. Today my mother is well provided for in her home with three of her children. All this was due largely to the Life Insurance my father had taken out when money was so scarce with us.

★ Taken from actual stories of insurance in action as related by policyholders. A number of these human interest stories from real life have been printed in booklet form. Your copy will be sent FREE upon request. See coupon in the adjoining column.

Gorgeous Jewelry Worn at First of The Royal Courts

Trains, Feathers and Decollete Neckline Are Decried in Lord Chamberlain's Orders for Court Dress—Throne-Room Brilliant Setting

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—Decollete was de rigueur for the season's first Court tonight. The Lord Chamberlain laid down the law to the matrons and debutantes presented to the King and Queen, insisting that costume regulations, sometimes ignored in the past, be strictly observed.

A few elderly women who feared catching cold were allowed to wear gowns with high necklines. The rest, however, though dignified and unostentatious, were decollete, many having off-the-shoulder necklines.

Full length trains, the traditional three feathers in the headdress and jewelry, also were decried, the latter giving Court jewelers opportunity to evolve new styles in the increasingly popular "tara."

The 1935 model, about one inch deep, is worn like a headband, the top of the head to the ears.

Ten Canadian women will be presented at tomorrow night's Court. The Queen's jewels, which she wore at the coronation, will be worn by her.

The King wore a bright scarlet uniform as Colonel-in-Chief of the Life Guards.

Gathered about the throne, which were draped in scarlet and embroidered with the royal coat of arms, were the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Earl of Harewood, Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught, the Duke and Duchess of Beaufort and the Marchioness of Cambridge.

TO BE PRESENTED
The ten Canadian women who will be presented tomorrow night are: Miss Nancy Almon, of Halifax; Mrs. Richard Baker and Mrs. Alexander McRae, of Vancouver; Mrs. Arthur Morris and her daughter, Miss Eleanor Morris, of Montreal; Miss Jane Nisbet, of Nelson, B.C.; Mrs. Henry Stetson and her daughter, Miss Jean Stetson, of Fredericton; and Miss Elinor Vale and Miss Norah Wilgess, of Toronto.

Harry Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Lewis, of Victoria, B.C. Rev. J. H. Miller officiating. The church was decorated with ferns and potted plants. Through-out the service Liszt's "Liebestraume" was played softly by Miss Doris Jacob. The bride, unattended, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. G. H. Reid, and wore a gown of Majorca blue crepe with silver lame jacket and hat and carried Johanna Hill roses and lily of the valley. During the signing of the register, "The Prayer Perfect" was sung by Mrs. P. Bacchus, of Chappell. The ushers were Dr. J. E. Thompson, Mr. D. Duncan and Mr. W. Miller. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. G. H. Reid, who received in a gown of brown figured chiffon with matching hat and shoes and corsage of yellow roses. The bride and groom left on a motor trip to New York, leaving later for Victoria, B.C., by way of the Southern States. For traveling the bride wore a swaggar suit of beige wool with brown accessories. After a month's visit with the groom's parents in Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will take up residence in Dawson City, Yukon Territory.

RITCH-GILBERT. A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. S. Patterson, when Daisy Elsie Gilbert became the bride of Mr. George Russell Ritch. Only immediate relatives and intimate friends attended the ceremony. The bride-maid was Miss Jean McKenzie and the best man, Mr. W. Andrews, brother of the bride. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. P. Holmes, Tindall Avenue, and later the bride and groom left for the South, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return, they will make their home in Victoria.

"I do not love you!" said a young woman who knew her own mind. "But," persisted the young man, "couldn't you learn to love me?" "No," she replied, "I have learned a good many difficult things, but they have always been things that I wanted to learn!"

Miss Colk Is Married At Duncan

TWO BRIDESMAIDS. She was attended by her two sisters as bridesmaids, Alice, in mauve organdie, with matching organdie turban and nose veil, and Phyllis, in a similar costume, in peach color. F. Vidal, who had chosen a blue crepe ensemble, and a navy blue matching hat. They wore dainty corsage

Dramalogue Will Assist Cancer Fund

His Excellency the Governor-General and a party from Government House will attend a dramalogue version of Frederick Lonsdale's "On Approval," to be given at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Tuesday evening. The entertainment is being sponsored by the Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., in aid of His Majesty's Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund.

The dramalogue will begin at 9:45 p.m., and will be under the supervision of Major L. Bullock-Webster, who has assembled a strong cast for the reading.

In order that everyone may be within easy hearing distance of the readers, the number of seats will be limited. There will be no action, costume or scenery, the purpose of the dramalogue being to create an illusion and conjure up a scene with the voice alone.

Mrs. Walter Nichol, regent, and Mrs. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, vice-regent of the chapter, are taking an active part in the arrangements.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS (UP)—There seems to be no end to the uses of that new Irish linen called Spiralspun. Vonnay, in the Rue des Saussaies, uses this material in a printed design of small rings in three shades of blue. She combines it with blue elastic lace in a manner all her own and makes the most delectable Summer corsets you can imagine.

Molyneux has a distinguished bag made of this stuff in navy blue. The bag is rectangular in shape and rather wider at the bottom than at the top and with a flap that fastens with three large navy blue clips made of leather.

Alexandrine finds Spiralspun equally adaptable for gloves and makes them of the heavy weight linen and in amusing prints of Harlequin design in crimson, navy and yellow on a white ground. In light-weight Spiralspun as filmy as a handkerchief, by the way, Alexandrine finds that the gloves wash and clean without ever losing either shape or color, aside from their being delightfully cool and comfortable to wear in Summer.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP
Gloves, purses and corsets—all made of the new Irish linen called Spiralspun, and woven in both heavy and light weights.

VAULTED TO NEW HIGH
"How high is it?" asked Keith Brown, Yale pole vaulter, when preparing for a recent jump in Madison Square Garden here. The answer from his coach was fourteen feet and a half inches. That didn't scare Brown, so he cleared it. Then he was told it was fourteen feet three and one-quarter inches—a new world record. They just eliminated any "scare" Brown might have had in trying for a record, and it worked.

1 cup Nestlé's Evaporated Milk diluted with 1/2 cup water
1 cup lobster cut in small pieces few drops onion juice
1/2 cup bread crumbs Dash cayenne Nestlé's Evaporated Milk
Prepare a white sauce of the butter, flour, pepper and salt and diluted Nestlé's Evaporated Milk. Add lobster, cayenne, and onion juice. Spread mixture on platter to become cold. Mold into small chops, dip in fine crumbs, then in undiluted Nestlé's Evaporated Milk, seasoned with salt and pepper, and again with crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat. Insert a section of lobster claw in each chop and arrange on a hot chop-dish. Garnish and serve immediately. These may be prepared the day before they are served. A delicious attractive hot course. Yield: 6 chops.

"LOBSTER CHOPS" ARE A FAVOURITE LUNCHEON DISH OF
Mrs. Hugh H. McLean, Jr.
AND HERE IS HOW I MAKE THEM"

says the cook of DUART HALL, residence of Mrs. Hugh H. McLean, Jr. daughter-in-law of Major-General, the Honourable Hugh MacLean, K.C., V.D., L.L.D., Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick 1928-1933

"TRY this recipe for yourself," advises Mrs. McLean's cook, "and when you do be sure to use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk. I find that Nestlé's Evaporated Milk makes these lobster chops more flavourful, more appetizing, more delicious in every way. Really I think Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is of great value to anyone who takes pride, as I do, in cooking well."

Lobster chops are literally but one of the hundreds of dishes which you can improve through the use of Nestlé's Evaporated Milk. Made from the purest cow's milk, with more than half the water removed, and with absolutely nothing added, Nestlé's is twice as rich as ordinary fluid milk and gives definitely smoother, richer, more uniform cooking results. Nestlé's is dependable, convenient, economical. Decide now to try it. At all grocers.

ASKS POLL TAX BE ELIMINATED

Councillor Ellis, of Oak Bay,
Makes Attack on Present System

In the opinion of Councillor William Ellis, of Oak Bay, the poll tax was a relic of by-gone days; that it had outlived any use it had and should be abolished in Canada. Even Russia in 1887, regarded at that time as among the most backward countries of the world, abolished the tax.

At the meeting of the council yesterday Councillor Ellis expressed the opinion that it was wrong in principle and Oak Bay should make a move to have it wiped out. The council will consider the matter in committee of the whole.

Backing his views with a memorandum he had prepared in which he quoted from Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations" and various other writers, the councillor pointed out that nowhere else in the British Empire but in Canada did the poll tax exist.

ABOLISHED IN BRITAIN
In Great Britain it was finally abandoned, yet, it has to be admitted as a shameful fact, that, almost 340 years later, i.e. 1935, politicians in Canada, both provincial and municipal, in their general pre-occupation for self interest, rather than public interest, still maintain it to the consequent annoyance and disgust of those on whom it is imposed," says the memorandum.

"Since the poll and capitation taxes have been shown to be generally detested, unworthy of a modern state and condemned by all authorities, they should be abolished. A tax is a compulsory contribution of the wealth of a person for the service of the public power, and the large number of persons who are unfairly burdened by poll and capitation taxes, have a legitimate claim to relief."

Poll taxes, he said, were among the oldest form of taxes, dating back to the days when government rested almost solely in the hands of a ruler. The imposition of these demands for money, or service, had been responsible for the Peasants' Revolt in 1380.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If March 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 9 to 11 p.m.

If you would avoid disappointment do not place too much dependence on anyone's apparent personality, for hidden traits, as well as unsuspected idiosyncrasies, may reveal weaknesses of character you never suspected. It might be just as well to remember that friendship many times is like a weather vane, standing steadfast and still when calm conditions prevail, but shifts as the winds blow, and the more disturbing the elements the quicker the change takes place. Self-reliance, as well as self-control, are two marvelous virtues to develop. Possessing them, you can face the world unafraid. Business conditions on this date will require your being alert. It probably will be very small things that large deals will be influenced by, so do not regard anything as being unworthy of your attention. Snobishness in social contacts will create unpleasant situations, as well as merited rebuke, so the wise will not indulge in this form of rudeness. Married and engaged couples, as well as those anxious to become members of the home-makers brigade, will do well to remember that true love is founded on mutual respect, and any action that might cause a forfeiture of it probably will be very unfortunate in final results.

If a woman, and March 28 is your birthday, your keen sense of the ridiculous and ability to see a funny side to almost every situation will enable you to face trials or tribulations successfully. Your happy disposition will attract many, make you popular, and be an asset in your business or social life. You are capable of accomplishing some very worthwhile thing, and should possess money-making ability. You should be very fortunate in love. You possibly will have a great deal of sunshine come into your life in a very unexpected manner. Educational work, acting as hostess or saleswoman, receptionist, or employed as secretary or librarian may offer the best means for advancement.

The child born on March 29 may, when it reaches its teens, be more or less influenced by its associates, so care should be exercised to see that its associates are of the right sort.

If a man, and March 29 is your natal day, you may accomplish a great deal more if married than if single, as you probably require something of a deep emotional feeling to inspire your best efforts. Journalism, painting, teaching, or the practice of law, or medicine, may enable you to attain the position you wish.

WOMAN TO BE HANGED TODAY AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, March 28 (CP).—For the first time in the history of the Montreal jail, a woman, Mrs. Thomas Sarao, will meet the scaffold and be hanged shortly after the break of dawn tomorrow, unless there is a last-minute reprieve. With Mrs. Sarao on her trip to the gallows will be Leone Gaspari and Angelo Donofrio, convicted with the woman of the murder of Nicholas Sarao, Westmount street cleaner for his insurance.

Possibility of Outbreak in Europe Interferes With Recovery Progress

"Uncertainty concerning the situation on the continent of Europe is proving a serious drawback to the stabilization of general conditions in Great Britain," Brigadier-General H. F. Brooke, C.B., C.B.E., C.M.G., who reached Victoria on the Pacific Exporter, stated aboard the liner just after she docked yesterday morning.

"There is a very general fear that anything may happen over there. Of course, it is very difficult for me to forecast what may eventuate, and I would not care to even hazard a guess. While the framing of the Versailles Treaty was probably the best thing that could be considered at the time, it appears to have outgrown its usefulness. It is hardly possible that the rest of Europe can hope to keep a virile nation like Germany under its thumb, so to speak, for all time.

"Apart from war rumors and their effects, however, Great Britain is doing very well, indeed, and the recovery from the depression is very noticeable, although gradual."

FOR TENDERS

Contractors Have to April 16 to Submit Figures for Hydrographic Warehouse

Tenders for the construction of the new warehouse for the Hydrographic Survey are invited by N. Desjardins, secretary of the Department of Public Works, Ottawa, the final date for their receipt being fixed for Tuesday, April 16.

The new warehouse will be erected on the property of the Dominion Government at the west end of the Johnson Street bridge. The structure will be 126 feet by eighty-two feet, and will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $60,000.

Plans, forms of contract and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained from the office of the chief engineer, Department of Public Works, Ottawa; district engineer, Postoffice Building, New Westminster; the Victoria Builders' Exchange, Limited, 1712 Douglas Street, Victoria; the Building and Construction Industries, Limited, 342 West Pender Street, Vancouver; and the postoffices at Vancouver and Victoria.

A marked cheque for a sum equal to 10 per cent of the total amount of the tender must accompany each bid.

In addition to the erection of the warehouse, the contract includes excavating, grading and draining of site and approaches, construction of roadways, railway tracks and retaining wall.

POLAND'S PORT
MADE TO ORDER

Europe's Most Modern Harbor Now Leads in Trans-fer Tonnage

Starting out without a single ship fifteen years ago when it regained its independence, Poland today has built up a mercantile marine comprised of fifty-five vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 64,358 tons. During the year 1935, it is planned to further increase the Polish fleet by 33,000 tons.

Of the forty regular lines sailing from Gdynia, Poland's made-to-order port on the Baltic, eight are carrying the Polish flag on their ships' masts. The phenomenal growth of Gdynia since it began to be converted from a fishing village ten years ago into Europe's most modern seaport has been the springboard for the emergence of Poland as a maritime power. Although it is the world's youngest port, Gdynia is already leading in transfer tonnage on the Baltic and is the fourth busiest port in Europe.

POLISH COMMERCE

The effect upon Polish commerce is shown by the fact that sea-borne exports and imports rose from 15 per cent of the total trade in 1920 to 67 per cent last year.

Two cargo steamers are also being built at present in English shipyards for the Zegluga Polska Line.

The first all-Polish vessel, the Jaskolka, designed and built in Poland from Polish materials, was launched some months ago, and three more motorized travelers are being constructed in the Gdynia naval station.

Last fall, the motorized Elemska was purchased from Danish interests by the Sea and Colony League for commercial exhibition purposes.

MONSTER WITH "SQUARE FACE"

Newfoundland Fisherman Trapped Strange Marine Denizen in His Nets

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 28 (CP).—A huge marine monster with nostrils like a cow's and the mouth of a shark was reported today as having been trapped off Newfoundland. Tom Courtney, who found the fish in his nets outside Pettes, said it was twenty feet long and with a body "as big as a puncher." He and his men couldn't drag it aboard the boat, but they cut off its tail—three feet across.

Marine officials here were unable to identify the fish from Courtney's description.

He said it had a large, "square" face, fine teeth and bones "as soft as rubber." It was colored like a swordfish. Its flesh resembled pork.

Pacific Exporter Buffeted Crossing Atlantic—Knight on Holiday Jaunt

Sir Thomas and Lady Taylor were arrivals here yesterday morning aboard the Furness Line M. Pacific Exporter. They are making the round trip on the liner and expect to come to Victoria early next week for a short visit while the ship is loading at Mainland ports.

Sir Thomas Taylor stated it was his first visit to any part of Canada and was purely a holiday jaunt. He is not interested in any business, he stated, but is very much interested in doing all he can to promote greater interchange of commodities between Canada and the Old Land.

STORM AFTER STORM

The Exporter, Sir Thomas stated, had encountered storm after storm on the Atlantic and the ship got a severe dusting, but proved a splendid seaboat. He had great praise for Captain C. L. Holland and all the officers of the ship.

Sir Thomas Taylor was principal of Wren's when the Great War broke out. He entered the Ministry of Munitions to organize training of munition workers and was Director of Labor Supply in 1917; assistant Controller-General, Demobilization Department, Ministry of Labor, 1918. He has been chairman of various public committees and is the author of the "Constitutional and Political History of Rome."

NEGLIGENCE FOR LOSS IS DENIED

Pacific Mills Claiming $24,829 From Tag Commodore for Scow Grounding and Capsizing

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—Claiming $24,829 from the steam tug Commodore, Pacific Mills, Ltd., is a plaintiff in Admiralty Court before Mr. Justice Archer Martin.

The action is based on the grounding and capsizing on March 26, 1933, of a scow, laden with machinery and logging equipment, while being towed by the Commodore from Ocean Falls to the mouth of Seymour Inlet.

A general denial to the charges of negligence is entered, on behalf of the Commodore, and the latter, in addition, seeks to limit her liability, to $10,186, based on her net registered tonnage of 261.73 and a liability of $38.92 per ton.

FINAL STAND ON HALIBUT LIVERS

Prince Rupert Boat Owners Are Now Planning to Man Fishing Craft Themselves

PRINCE RUPERT, March 28 (CP).—Members of the Canadian Halibut Vessel Owners' Association here have decided unanimously to maintain their demand that halibut livers be figured in the gross stock of catches, with the boats receiving a fifth share of the entire catch.

No further advances will be made to the Deepsea Fishermen's Union in connection with the matter, the association decided at a meeting last night. They agreed to consider as final the fishermen's stand that livers should not be figured in gross stock.

The owners are prepared, however, to sign on any fishermen willing to work on the basis of the boats sharing in the halibut liver proceeds. In the event of fishermen refusing to man the boats on this basis, the owners plan to man the fleet themselves and employing as many boats as possible.

Under the plan, the proceeds would be evenly divided among the owners manning the vessels.

No decision was reported by the meeting as to when the fleet should leave for the banks, further word being awaited from Seattle, which had deferred its decision until March 29.

EMPIRE SHOWING ROAD SHOW TODAY

"Footlight Frolics" Stars Twenty-Five Performers—Band Appearing With Company

The stage is all set at the Empire Theatre for the opening performance this afternoon of the smart New York revue, "Footlight Frolics." The first performance will be given at 2:30 o'clock and there will be three performances this evening, followed by four tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The artists with this company—twenty-five in all, and mostly girls—came to Victoria with the praise of theatrical audiences in neighboring cities. Seattle gave the show a most flattering reception and the big theatre where it ran was crowded at each performance. A few days ago in Vancouver further capacity audiences turned out to see the road show.

On the programme are singers and dancers, comedians, acrobatic performers, jugglers and other ar-

AMUSEMENTS

On the Stage
Empire—"Footlight Frolics."
On the Screen
Capitol—W. C. Fields in "David Copperfield."
Columbia—"We're Rich Again," starring Edna May Oliver.
Dominion—Rudy Vallee in "Sweet Music."
Playhouse—"Enter Madame," starring Cary Grant.

Stars who will present many surprises. A smart stage orchestra will provide a musical background for all the acts, as well as supply a couple of numbers on its own account.

CAPITOL. A comedy star becomes a villain in "David Copperfield."—and scores one of the outstanding hits of the year! It is Roland Young, who for many years has been identified with comic roles. In New York, on the stage, he scored decisive hits in "Rollo's Wild Oat" and many other plays. But in "David Copperfield," now at the Capitol Theatre, he becomes Uriah Heep, arch-hypocrite, thief and scoundrel.

COLUMBIA. Joan Marsh, who plays the role of the elder daughter in "We're Rich Again," now at the Columbia Theatre, is credited with knowing more about camera lines and camera technique than any youthful player on the screen. That is because she is the daughter of Charles G. Risher, ace cameraman of many years' experience, and because her father taught her the movie business from his angle as well as her own.

PLAYHOUSE. The entire chorus of the Los Angeles Opera Company appears in the cast of Paramount's "Enter Madame," featuring Elissa Landi and Cary Grant, now at the Playhouse Theatre. Appearing in scenes with Miss Landi and other members of the cast of the film, which was directed by Elliott Nugent, the chorus joins in the singing of popular airs from "La Tosca," "Il Trovatore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Rudy Vallee and Ann Dvorak Sing and Dance in Sparkling Production Here

Ann Dvorak sings three songs with Rudy Vallee in her newest role as the crooner's leading woman in "Sweet Music," the Warner Bros. production which comes to the Dominion Theatre today.

One song is "There's a Different You," written by Sammy Pain and Irving Kahal; another is the "Sweet Music" theme song, written by the third is "Sweet Music" by Mort Dixon and Alie Wrubel.

Miss Dvorak also will dance in the picture. "Sweet Music" is the first film in which Miss Dvorak has had an opportunity to demonstrate her singing and dancing talent, although she started her career as a hooper, even teaching it. "Sweet Music" is Warner Bros.' latest and most spectacular musical comedy special. In the cast with Vallee and Miss Dvorak are Ned Sparks, Helen Morgan, Robert Armstrong, Allen Jenkins, Alice White, Joe Cawthorn and Al Shean.

Dances and ensembles in which scores of beautiful girls take part were staged by Bobby Connolly, while the music is by the noted song teams who composed the tunes for the previous Warner musicals.

OPEN CAMPAIGN OF BRIGHTNESS

Ladysmith Council Takes Preliminary Steps in "Paint-Up" Movement

LADYSMITH. March 28.—The city council, at the regular meeting here last evening, took preliminary steps to inaugurate a "paint-up and clean-up" campaign to have Ladysmith brightened up by the voluntary labor of the citizens.

It was pointed out that many of the stores and homes in the city could be rehabilitated at small expenditure and exertion to regain their former pleasing appearance. Mayor Walkem suggested that those in a position to do so might be persuaded to employ help for a day or two from the ranks of the many men who were anxious to procure additional work.

ASKED TO CO-OPERATE

All public bodies and all citizens generally will be asked to co-operate in the movement for a brighter Ladysmith. A two-week period, falling toward the latter end of April, is tentatively suggested as the best time, but the council will definitely arrange the date before publication of the appeal.

The board of works committee of the council was appointed to work with the committee from the Board of Trade in connection with the plans for the landscaping and development of the Market Square. Work on the square so far has been limited to a certain amount of filling, but the plans were in hand and as the necessary labor is available, the process of improvement will proceed.

ADMIRAL'S REGRETS

A communication from the vice-admiral of the West Indies Squadron of the Royal Navy, regretted it was not possible to have Ladysmith included in the itinerary for the 1935 Pacific cruise of one of the squadron, as the schedule had already been prepared. City Clerk N. A. Morrison explained that the city application to have Ladysmith on the official visiting list of the cruiser had been made two months earlier, but that the plans were in hand and as the necessary labor is available, the process of improvement will proceed.

The Ladysmith Unemployed Association asked the council to receive a delegation of four from their body, to discuss the problem of the unpaid taxes of those on relief work. The delegation will comprise R. Trotter, L. Cioke, H. Wallace and W. Nankville. The association will be notified that the council will treat the delegation's representations at the next council meeting.

Jane Dixon Says:

ENGAGED BUT HAS ONLY SEEN FIANCE THREE TIMES IN TWO YEARS, THOUGH HE LIVES FAIRLY NEAR—SITUATION NEEDS CLARIFYING

Isn't it amazing how women in love will go on and on, believing in fairies and in dreams and in all sorts of impossible chimeras? It is so easy to see the truth as we want it to be instead of as the truth is.

A woman will listen to the most absurd story from the lips of the man she loves and believe it, even though her reason shouts the falseness of it.

She will go floating along on a rosy dream of love, a dream of her own creation, and swear by all the great gods and little fishes she is wide awake.

She will visualize a future with a man she loves, knowing the visions have no more chance of realization than a snowball has of blooming on a rose bush.

And on the sad awakening! Oh the tears and the sighs and the wishes.

"I wish I hadn't been such a silly little fool."
"I wish I had strength of character enough to admit the truth."
"I wish I'd used my head instead of my heart."

Dear Miss Dixon: Two years ago I met a man who is now twenty-seven. I am twenty-one. We became good pals and are now engaged.

My fiance lives a quite a distance from me and I don't get to see him very often. At the same time I know definitely that he goes with a girl in his home town and has been going with her regularly ever since I've known him.

He says he cares for me, and that his feeling for the other girl is merely one of friendship, a pastime. I care a great deal for this man and would like to have him come to see me more frequently.

He makes a good salary, owns his own car. But when I mention his coming to see me he always has some excuse why he can't do it. Since I have known him he has been in my home three times. However, I have seen him at other places. He has been good to me but I become discouraged and sometimes doubt his word.

Do you think that if he was true to his word he would come often to see me? Do you think I should demand he do so? Should I ask him to give up the other girl's friendship when our plans are so indefinite? If he loves me as he should, do you think he would be angry if I asked him to give up his friendship with the other girl?—Jane.

Answer: I'll do the best I can to help you, Jane, but I almost wish you hadn't asked me because I'm going to have to hurt you and how I hate doing it.

If the man is as you portray him, has an adequate salary, his own car: if he loved you honestly and honorably, you would not have to demand that he come to see you more than three times in two years. You would not even have to ask him to pay you that attention. He'd be on your doorstep at every opportunity and nothing would keep him away.

Does the girl in his home town know about your engagement? In fairness to you and to her, too, she should know. It is somewhat unusual for a girl to go "regularly" with an engaged man just to pass the time away.

Have you made any definite arrangements about your marriage date? Men are inclined to be drifters in love when girl friends help them amuse themselves. If your fiance has a good salary, why haven't you married and gone to his home town so that the matter of distance would not bother you?

Now to answer your paragraph of questions:

If his words of love were true he will come to see you as often as it is humanly possible for him to do so.

There is nothing to be gained by demanding that he visit you. I doubt that he would respond to such a demand. You cannot demand or command love. It is a voluntary expression. Likewise this is the answer to your question about asking him to give up the other girl. If he doesn't care enough for his avowed love for you to make the other girl a very casual friend, there's no use asking. To do so would be to diminish your own interest and increase that of the other girl. Human nature is perverse.

Don't bother about whether the young man will be angry or not. If he is not already lost to you, he will be unless you take some sort of definite action. Make it a point to see him and have a heart to heart talk. Tell him you are unhappy. Tell him why you are unhappy.

If he does not respond to that sort of frankness and confidence he does not love you and the sooner you know the truth the less time you'll waste and the fewer regrets you'll have among your souvenirs.

Construction of Bridge Opposed

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—Construction of the proposed bridge across the Fraser River, at New Westminster, is strongly opposed in a resolution adopted unanimously today by the Vancouver Real Estate Exchange.

Opinion was expressed that there should first be an independent examination of the old structure by competent engineers as it seemed peculiar that heavy trains were passing over the bridge continuously and yet it suddenly should be pronounced unsafe.

The facts, as placed before the public, it was declared, were insufficient to justify the proposed structure at this time.

ROTARY GOVERNOR ATTACKS ETHICS

Percy B. Scourrah Says Clubmen Must Start Correcting Abuses at Home

False advertising, misleading labels and transgression of fair wage laws were attacked by Percy B. Scourrah, governor of the Pacific Northwest Rotary District, during a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club held at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"We have no reason to be proud of Canadian business," Rotarians have failed to live up to their ethics," the speaker asserted. He made a plea to all present to start correcting their own abuses before accusing the Government of failing to change its own.

Samuel Armstrong arranged a skit demonstrating proper business ethics in sales of electric irons, jam, electric stoves and automatic coil stokers.

William A. Deming, of the Bellingham Rotary Club, described the twenty-first annual conference to be held there from May 19 to 21, and invited members of the Victoria club and their wives to attend.

Silent tribute was paid to the memory of the late J. Percy Watson, a former president of the club. This evening, Rotarians will gather in Hall's Hall at 8 o'clock for a stag bridge party.

LEAFS BLANK BRUINS; MAROONS DEFEAT RANGERS

Scottish Cup Semi-Finals to Be Played Tomorrow---Rangers Tackle Hearts

Cupholders Facing Hard Task in Game At Hampden Park

Aberdeen Clashes With Hamilton Academicals in Other Match of Importance—League Features Also Attracting Fans—Several English Teams Facing Relegation

GLASGOW, March 28 (CP).—Soccer fans "north of the Tweed" will head for this city Saturday for two great Scottish soccer cup tussles. Semi-final games bring together Hearts and Rangers at Hampden Park, while on Celtic's grounds at Parkhead, Aberdeen clashes with Hamilton Academicals.

The game between the cup-holders and Edinburgh's hopes is expected to prove the greater drawing card and the famous home of Rangers' Park will be well filled. Celtic's defeat last week by St. Johnstone came as something of a shock particularly as Hearts recently have been playing football of championship calibre. Last week the capital's representatives trounced Queen of South, 4-2.

The railways will bring in trainloads for the Aberdeen-Hamilton battle. Both sides are high up in the standing, but last Saturday the Accies were crushed 4-1 by Albion Rovers, while the Dons played a 1-1 draw with Clyde.

NEEDS VICTORY
A glance at Saturday's league schedule indicates tussles similar to those served to fans a week ago. Dundee, still smarting from the 2-0 blanking by the St. Mirren eleven, is entertained by Ayr United. The United, placed on the last rung of the standing, one point behind the Saints, played at home last Saturday and subdued Celtic, 1-0. It will be a determined band of players that takes the field in this game.

Falkirk, just one point ahead of St. Mirren, is "on the spot" against Celtic. The Celts, like Dundee, are out to break the "jinx" these teams hold over them.
Only five points separate the teams occupying the last seven places in the standing and with about a month to go before the end of the season's play it is doubtful who will drop to the minor division. Queen of Southern enters Kilmarnock, while Dunfermline has a fairly even opponent, Partick Thistle, at home.

CLOSE RACE
A great race for league honors in the Second Division is going on with three points separating the first three clubs. Third Lanark, the leader, meets East Fife Saturday on the latter's grounds. East Fife holds eighth position. St. Bernard's should add a couple of points. The Saints play away from home against Raith Rovers.

ENGLISH LEAGUE
LONDON, March 28 (CP).—With finalists for the English Cup decided, interest in the battle for the trophy has waned momentarily, but the league championship and relegation problems are at a very intriguing stage.
The only soccer champion that can be fairly safely named at the present time is Charlton Athletic in the Southern Section of the Third Division.

Arsenal, in the First Division, has a hard time holding its lead over Sunderland and Manchester City. The Gunners play Aston Villa at Villa Park, Saturday, and may include Alex James in their attack against the redoubtable Midlanders. Sunderland is at home to Leeds United and Manchester City visits Huddersfield. Tottenham Hotspurs at the other end of the table seemed doomed to go down. They were crushingly defeated today by Leicester City. On Saturday West Bromwich Albion, cup finalist, visit White Hart Lane, while Leicester City is at home to Liverpool.

HAS GOOD CHANCE
In the Second Division Bolton Wanderers have a good opportunity to reduce the margin that separates them from the leading Brentford eleven. The Wanderers are hosts to Bradford, while Brentford will have a tough job to annex the major

Golden Miller's Jockey Is Hoping For Fall of Rain

Aintree, Liverpool, March 28 (CP).—"There's just one thing I would like," said Jockey Gerry Wilson tonight before retiring to rest up for his effort to get a second victory in the Grand National aboard Golden Miller, "and that is a good fall of rain."
"It isn't that the Miller can't race on firm ground," Wilson added. "But the present fast state of the course might enable some of the others to stay better than they would under severe conditions. My horse at least will stay the course."
Wilson added he was thoroughly fit and hoped to give Golden Miller a good ride.

OXFORD CREW SHOWS FORM IN WORKOUT

Registers Good Time Over Course in Preparation for Varsity Race

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, England, March 28 (CP).—The Oxford eight, polishing off training for the classic varsity boat race with Cambridge, April 6, today rowed a full-course trial in nineteen minutes thirty-one seconds, considered a smart performance under the conditions. The time was one second faster than their first trial and twenty-eight seconds slower than Cambridge's trial last week.

Oxford, unlike their first trial, today had the assistance of four pacing crews in relays. The water was dead on the ebb and the crew got no help from the tide. There was no wind, however, to aid or hamper them.

A scratch crew got off with the Dark Blues and held the varsity men until the Westminster Bank eight took over. At Chiswick, rowing in the reverse direction of the boat race, the Midland Bank crew belted as far as Hammer Smith. The varsity men could not shake off the Westminster Bank eight, but the Midland Bank crew were well beaten. The Leasbury crew joined in at Craven Steps and kept level with the big eight to the finish. Only two of the eight showed any signs of distress at the finish and that was only momentary. The feature of the trial was the high rate of stroking, the Dark Blues getting off at thirty-five to the minute and finishing with a burst of thirty-six strokes to the minute. Only once in the whole four-and-a-quarter-mile course did the rate go below thirty-five strokes a minute.

Oak Bay High to Oppose Victoria In Hockey Match
With one victory to their credit, Oak Bay High School girls' grass hockey team will be out for their second win when they meet the Victoria High School eleven this afternoon in the second game of the May Tully Shield competition. The fixture will be played on the Victoria grounds. The face-off is set for 3:30 o'clock.

OLYMPICS IN HOCKEY WIN

Detroit Pucksters Capture International Hockey League Honors

DETROIT, March 28 (CP).—Detroit's Olympics won their first International Hockey League championship here, tonight, by beating the London Tecumsehs, 2-1, in a fast, well-played game before about 6,000 fans. It was the third straight victory for Detroit in its finals series with the Tecums. The defence work of Foster and Williams, coupled with some brilliant goal-minding by Norm Smith, was chiefly responsible for winning for Detroit its first title and the Teddy Oke Trophy.

Earl Roche, assisted by Wally Kilrea, gave Detroit a lead late in the first period. Forbes kicked out eleven shots, his playing holding the O's scoreless. In the final frame, however, Mike Brophy knotted the count on Toupin's perfect pass, and then Tommy Anderson gave Detroit victory by taking the puck away from George Lever, inside the line, and beating Forbes with a shot that never left the ice.
The final goal came after nine minutes of play in the third stanza, and for the remainder of the game Detroit withstood a desperate drive by the Tec. Brundear drew the game's third penalty for holding Arnold, but the Olympic defence withstood every London attack.

KHAN AGREES TO RETURN GO

Afghan Signs to Meet Burke Saturday Evening in Finnish Wrestling Match

Colorful Abdel Khan, yesterday made good his assertion that he has never side-stepped an opponent in his fifteen years in the mat game when he agreed to meet Leo Burke, rugged Tacoma, in a return bout Saturday evening at the Tillamook gymnasium. The match will be to a finish, and not under the Australian rounds system, with a five-minute interval after a fall. It will hold the main event position on the weekly squirm programme, and promises to be jammed full of exciting moments.
For the semi-windup, over the five eight-minute route, Promoter Fred Richardson has signed Gust Johnson, Rockford, Suede, and Jack Conway, Dallas, Texas. Johnson's exploits in the Victoria squared circle are well known to local followers of the mat game, who have often seen him in action. But Conway is making his initial appearance. Advance reports state that the Texas grappler is going over in a big way in Seattle and other Pacific Coast cities, and his debut here against Johnson should be a good match.

The Burke-Khan match will be no pink tea affair, but instead, promises to be one of the fiercest matches presented at the local cauliflower arena for many a day. Admittedly one of the toughest opponents the Afghan has met in his successful sojourn in the Victoria ring, Burke is conceded an excellent chance to defeat the Far Easterner.

GAVE AFGAN TROUBLE

In their last match here Burke gave the foxy Afghan plenty of trouble, and more than once forced the be-whiskered wearer of the fez to go outside the ropes for protection. The Tacoma delights in roughing things up, and while this is right down Mr. Khan's alley, the Afghan is another of those wrestlers who does not like body slams and flying mares. This is Burke's most dangerous offensive weapon, and Saturday evening he will be in there trying to break Khan's winning streak with this attack.

Khan, master showman and one of the most cagey wrestlers to ever step in the local squared circle, is no novice at this wrestling business. If Burke scores a victory over the Afghan he will accomplish something that Victoria fans have been waiting for a long time to see, and incidentally will be gaining one of the most popular verdicts chalked up at the Tillamook gymnasium.

Dancer Captures Liverpool Spring Cup by a Length

LIVERPOOL, March 28 (CP).—Miss Dorothy Paget, four-year-old Gay Dancer won the Liverpool Spring Cup Handicap this afternoon, happy augury for the turf-woman, whose Golden Miller is staunch favorite for Friday's Grand National.

Gay Dancer finished a length ahead of Lord Rosebery's Tartan, with M. Flynn's Louie third. Thirteen ran the cup course of a mile and a quarter and seventy-nine yards in the renewal of the event first run in 1928.

The winner started at 10 to 1; Tartan was 9 to 2, and Louie 100 to 7.

Sir M. Campbell Departing Today

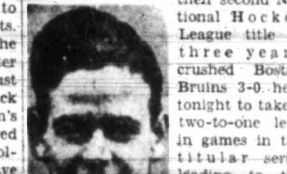

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP).—Sir Malcolm Campbell, automobile speed demon, came to New York today preparatory to departing tomorrow night for his native England.

Sir Malcolm, who drove his giant Bluebird 276.816 miles per hour over the packed sand at Daytona Beach, Fla., for a new world record, voiced disappointment over his failure to hit 300 miles per hour, and said he would keep trying "until I make it."

TORONTO TAKES LEAD IN CRUCIAL SERIES BY 3 TO 0 VICTORY

Near-Record Crowd Watches Home Squad Turn On Power Against Boston—Losers' Defence Crumples Under Terrific Strain—Montreal Flashes in 2-1 Decision Over New York

MAPLE LEAF GARDENS, TORONTO, March 28 (CP).—Toronto Maple Leafs, driving directly toward their second National Hockey League title in three years, crushed Boston Bruins 3-0 here tonight to take a two-to-one lead in games in the titular series leading to the Stanley Cup finals.

BILL THOMS

They made it 120 minutes in games in the titular series leading to the Stanley Cup finals. They made it 120 minutes in games in the titular series leading to the Stanley Cup finals. They made it 120 minutes in games in the titular series leading to the Stanley Cup finals.

A near-record crowd of 14,218 watched the Canadian Section winners completely overpower a Boston machine that had nothing except a great goaltender to cope with the bruising Leafs, who did much of their most effective smashing in the first two games at Boston. The Bruins, shaken by the body blows of those assaults, wobbled perceptibly.

It was the third straight shutout. Boston winning the first game 1-0 in thirty-three minutes overtime, and Toronto taking the second 2-0. The second Leaf triumph made Conny Smythe's team 5-1 favorites to win the series and face either Montreal Maroons or New York Rangers in the Stanley Cup New York.

Strained to the breaking point from overwork, the mighty Eddie Shore-Babe Siebert defence was the first barrier to fall as the Leafs drove in to take a lead in the first minute of play. They never ceased pelting Tiny Thompson with rubber. The Bruin netman, a hero in all three games, blocked thirty-four shots, compared with twenty-two handled by George Hainsworth.

Bill Thoms, second-string centre, potted a goal in forty-four seconds when Frank Finnigan skated up to the Boston defence, tricked Siebert into charging him, then slipped the puck through to Thoms, who was uncovered. The shot struck Thompson's pads and glanced into the cage.

ROOKIE TALLIES
Midway through the second period, when Bill Hollett and Peggy O'Neill were resting on the penalty bench, a red-headed pair broke away from the Toronto end of the rink. Red Horner barked into the weakening Shore and laid a pass on the stick of young Nick Metz, promoted from Syracuse Stars, of the International League, for the big series. Metz scored from straight in front of the goal.

A passing bout between Harvey Jackson and Charlie Conacher, in the third period, left the whole Bruin team out in the cold. After a double-play Jackson was poised in the goalmouth with Thompson far to one side. He had only to rap the puck over the line.

Aside from these vital blows, 148-pound King Clancy and the burly Horner carried the potent Toronto artillery. Clancy charged, high-sticked and belted virtually every Bruin attacker who came his way, paying special attention to an already tired Shore.

Horner-shook Shore so severely with one mighty body check, that Eddie had to hobble to the bench for a stretch to recover. Not since the days of Alex Levisky had the Toronto club put up such a barrier goal. Hainsworth was a real pro of bone and flesh in front of its tect.

Siebert, with a painfully injured foot, played for more than forty-five minutes, but the Bruins were unable to use Dit Clapper after the second period. The rainy night-winger whose shot broke up the first game had water on the knee and is likely to see little more action this season.

Officials: Stewart and Bell.

Summary

First Period—1, Toronto, Thoms (Finnigan), 44. Penalties: Cotton, O'Neill.
Second Period—2, Toronto, Metz (Horner), 11 03. Penalties: Finnigan, Kilrea, Barry, Hollett, O'Neill.

MAROONS FLASH POWER

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, March 28 (CP).—Montreal Maroons flashed championship power when it counted to take a 2-1 lead over New York Rangers in the semi-final round of the Stanley Cup play-offs here tonight.

Working coolly, the Montrealers fought from behind for a lead in the first tilt of the two-game, total-goal series to earn the advantage on smart goals by Herb "Hurricane" Cain and Bally "Northcott." Once they earned the lead to carry into the decisive game on their home ice Saturday, Maroons threw up a defensive bulwark to thwart the efforts to which 16,000 shouting fans goaded the Rangers.

BUN COOK SCORES

New York hopes rode high when the old guards of the blue team tricked the Maroon defence for a goal after the game had gone three slow minutes. Frankie Boucher suddenly flashed away and on his pass Captain Bill Cook, skating like mad despite the eight-stitch scalp wound he suffered against Montreal Canadiens in the first round for the hockey title, smashed the puck at the Maroon net. Goalie Alex Connell cleared, but Bun Cook skated in for the rebound and a goal from close in.

The men of Tommy Gorman took command and after seven minutes Herb Cain scored the tying goal following a centre-ice passing foray with Bob Graeme and Gus Marker. Cain drew the Ranger defence, first Ching Johnson, then Ott Heller, out of position, with feint shots, before roaring in on top of Dave Kerr for the marker.

Northcott, scorer of the goal that knocked Chicago Black Hawks out of the playoffs, again sneaked home the decisive marker late in the second period. "Bally" baffled Kerr by feigning a dash around the back of the New York net after collaring the rebound of Holley Smith's previous shot. As the blue's netman moved to the opposite corner of his cage, Northcott back-tracked to push the puck into the unattended side of the net.

Referee: Mike Rodden and Eusebio Diagneau.

Summary

First Period—1, Rangers, P. Cook (Boucher-Bill Cook), 3:10; 2, Maroons; Cain (Graeme-Marker), 10:18. Penalty: Starr.
Second Period—3, Maroons, Northcott (Smith), 14:43. Penalty: Cain.
Third Period—No score.
Shots Stopped—Kerr, 16, 12, 11-39; Connell, 10, 7, 8-25.

Remember When

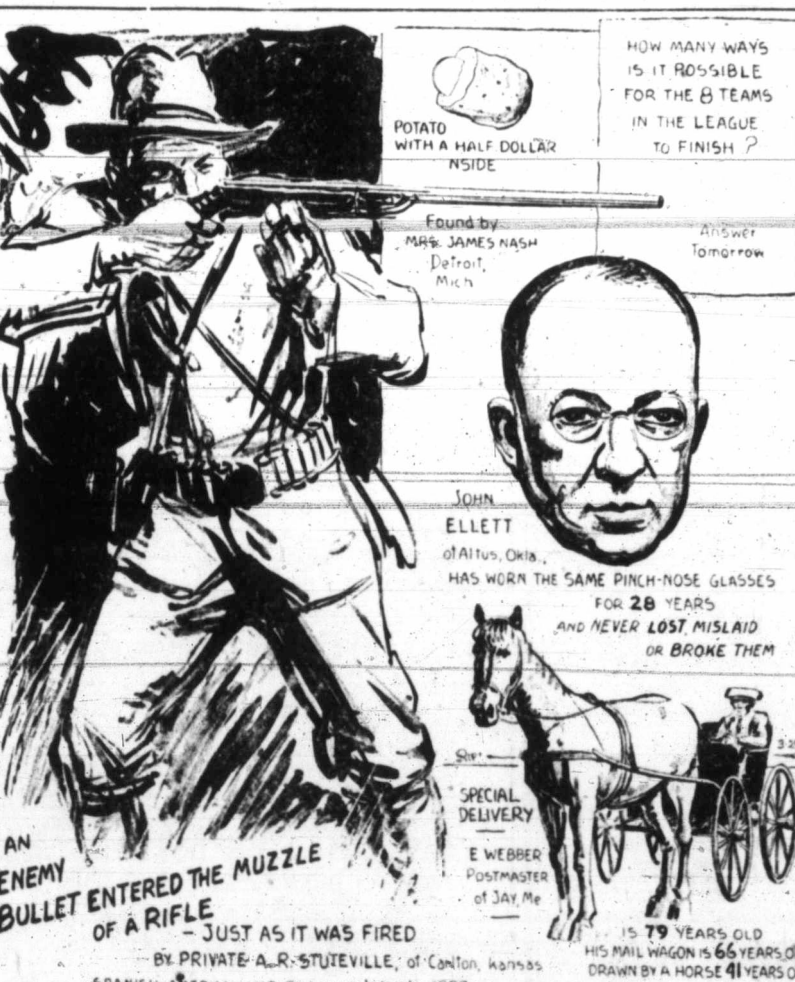

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)
Sport booms in the North End. Nothing is too good for the lads who, on the soccer field, trimmed the Victoria West seniors, although themselves but second divisioners. They are the idols of their district and, as a direct result of the success achieved in this and other branches of athletics, in which they have taken a prominent part, there is strong reason to believe that the club will have improved quarters in a very short time.

The movement was broached at the banquet tendered the Ward societies on Friday night, and it was announced that two prominent lumber companies of the city have taken the initiative and presented the N.W.A.A. with sums aggregating $500 to be used in the construction of a suitable home. It is probable that, in the course of a few weeks, an active campaign, similar to that underway in Victoria West, will be started. If this policy is adopted right away there is no doubt that it will be crowned with success.

By thirty to seventeen points, Victoria Y.M.C.A. team was defeated by the Vancouver Association's quintette last Saturday evening at Vancouver. The match is said to have been closer than the score would indicate. The Islanders put up a hard match. They were handicapped, however, through their lack of familiarity with the hall. The Vancouver lads played fast, consistent ball, excelling in combination and shooting.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Poisonous Delicacy—The gigantic root of the Manioc plant is permeated with a milky acidic juice which is deadly poisonous, containing a strop hydrocyanic acid. Fortunately the poison is volatile and can be dissipated by heat. The Brazilians squeeze the sap out of the plant and by boiling convert it into an excellent sauce called "casareep." The root is dried quickly by the action of intense heat. It is then grated on hot metal plates and pulverized into flour, with which the characteristic Brazilian cakes are baked. The tapoca of commerce is also made from the root of the manioc in this fashion.

Four Honorable Army Discharges—LeRoy Baughan's army service record is unique in that he received four honorable discharges with remarks of excellent character during the Great War. On March 15, 1915, Baughan enlisted, and his first discharge was from the Federalized National Guard in July, 1917, when he was transferred to Fort Snelling, Minn. Completion of his service at Fort Snelling in August, 1917, caused him to be discharged again, and he immediately re-enlisted in the Aviation Ground School at Austin, Texas. His December, 1917, discharge from the Ground School was due to personal injuries in an accident. He recuperated in seven months and thereafter re-enlisted for service overseas, where he remained until his final discharge in September, 1919.

Golden Miller, Strong Favorite, Will Attempt Achieve Fame by Winning Race Twice in Succession—Will Go to Post at Low Odds—Grueling Test Faces Starting Field

AINTREE, England, March 28 (CP)—It was Golden Miller against the field tonight, as Aintree and the world feverishly awaited the ninety-seventh running of the Grand National steeplechase, with prospects of glorious weather, a record attendance and a great race.

Dorothy Paget's grand jumper, the first winning in 1850 and 1851, and the Colonel was the last, winning in 1869 and 1870. Poethlynn won in 1918 and 1919, but the 1918 race was at Gatwick and is not counted a Grand National by the English turfman.

LOWEST ODDS
Golden Miller's odds of 9 to 4 are lowest in the race's history. Odds of 5 to 2 were laid against Conjuror in 1924. His supporters are praying he will fare better than Conjuror, who was in the lead nearing the finish when he was knocked over by a riderless horse. The statisticians also recalled that only four horses have previously won with the crushing impost of 175 pounds on their back.

The record book was the only source from which the bookmakers could derive any consolation. Flamingo, popular winner of the Lincolnshire, Wednesday, was coupled with Golden Miller in huge amounts, and should the favorite win it will be one of the blackest Fridays the bookmaking fraternity has ever gone through. A victory for either Thoroughbred or Tapinoia, the next choices, would not suit them much better, however.

The field was completed today and twenty-seven will go to the post.

Barfing some overnight mishap to some of the hopefuls, Golden Miller will be ridden again by Gerald Wilson. Speck will have the mount on Thoroughbred, getting a weight advantage of eight pounds and running for John Hay Whitney, of the United States. Tapinoia, the third most popular entry, a French-bred, will carry bottom weight of 147 pounds with Gurney up.

Turf glory, bets and sweepstakes aside, the race is the thing for most of the hundreds of thousands who will attempt to get a glimpse of the struggle tomorrow. The railways are running sixty long-distance restaurant specials from all parts of the country. Post-time is 3 p.m. (9 a.m. C.S.T.), but the start is usually delayed for a time.

HALF MILLION EXPECTED
One of the many companies catering to the needs of the throng has ordered 5,400 pounds of meat, 2,500 pounds of fish, 1,700 pounds of bacon, 8,000 eggs, and 6,500 bottles of beer, and this is just a drop in the bucket. It is estimated 500,000 people will be at or around Aintree when the race is run.

Tonight's final call-out of odds was as follows: Golden Miller, 9-4; Thoroughbred, 6-1; Tapinoia, 19-1; Castle Irwell, 20-1; Really True and Southern Hero, 22-1; Brechez, Reynoldsdown, Alexena and Royal Ransom, 25-1; Slater, 33-1; Bachelor Prince, 40-1; Blue Prince and Uncle Batt, 45-1; Ballybrack, Trocadero and Princess Mir, 50-1; Huic Holloa, Theresa and Lazy Boots, 66-1; Fouquet, and Emancipator, 80-1; and Brave Cry, Red Park, Southern Hue, Master Orange and Jimmy James, 100-1.

OFFICIAL LIST
The official list of starters, with owners, jockeys and weights, is as follows:

CRICKET LOOP HEADS GIVEN ANOTHER TERM

Wednesday League Rejects P. C. Payne and P. C. Shrimpton

Expressing their appreciation of the capable and efficient manner in which they looked after the affairs of the league during the 1934 season, club delegates yesterday evening returned Percy C. Payne and Percy C. Shrimpton as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Wednesday Cricket League, at the annual meeting held in The Colonist boardroom.

Entries for the 1935 season must be filed not later than May 1, with the secretary-treasurer. It is expected that five clubs, Hudson's Bay, Five C's, Victoria, Albions and Mount View High School will compete for the honors. The first three clubs are sure starters, and officials of the loop are looking forward to receiving entries from the other organizations.

PLAY-OFF SERIES PLANNED
The league schedule will be divided into two sections, with a post-season play-off series bringing together the winners of each half for the league championship.

Inter-city matches with Vancouver will be played, and tentative plans call for the Victoria, eleven to visit the Mainland on July 1, and for the Vancouver side to play here on Labor Day.

League officials yesterday issued an appeal for umpires for league play during the season. Those interested in assisting the midweek loop in this way are asked to communicate with P. C. Shrimpton, secretary, by telephoning E 8079.

Letters to the Editor

SPEAKS FOR JUVENILES

Sports Editor:
Dear Sir:—Would you kindly let me have a small space in your paper regarding the article in the press of March 27 re football game of Saturday, March 23.

I think it is very unfair for the Senior League to make a promise to give 10 per cent and, after the game, refuse. I know that the juveniles would draw a large crowd as the parents of these boys are very eager to see them get in good clean sport, and at that time they would draw a lot of people for the senior game.

Perhaps the people do not know that the juveniles started with nothing, and have to go out and try to get money to buy footballs and equipment, not forgetting the good sports who have given money to help a good thing along.

It has come to a time now when they have to send teams Up-Island, also to Vancouver, for the British Columbia championships, and I can tell you, Mr. Editor, it takes lots of time and worry knowing what to do next to try to give these boys good training in clean sportsmanship.

Hoping this matter will be taken up by some good sportsmen of our city. Sincerely yours,

BERT RUTHERFORD

SCIENTIFIC TESTS

Here are tests that every piece of Tip Top Tailors' fabric must pass before it is tailored to your measure.

The Strength Test
THE STRENGTH TEST: As the fabric is clamped into jaws and slowly pulled downward, a counterbalance indicates the pressure in pounds. At the first indication of a tear, the counterbalance stops, thus registering, in pounds, the strength of the cloth.

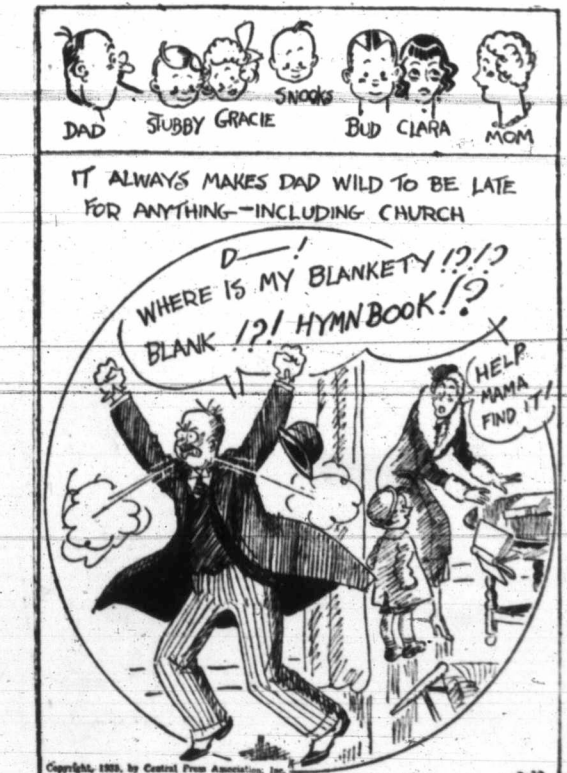

The Light Test
THE LIGHT TEST: Here the fastness of colour is established. In a room with controlled humidity and temperature, cloths are subjected to the glare of artificial sunlight. This establishes the number of hours of sunlight the material will stand without fading.

The Caustic Soda Test
THE CAUSTIC SODA TEST: To insure materials being pure wool, they are immersed in a solution of caustic soda and brought to a boil. Wool dissolves completely and if any residue is left it indicates the presence of cotton or other foreign substances.

These are some of the reasons why Tip Top Tailors made to measure clothes look good months after ordinary clothes have lost their style and shape.

TO SERVE TWO MASTERS

"No man can serve two masters" is an aphorism that is heard frequently and particularly apropos politicians who would retain old adherents while simultaneously angling for favors of opposing factions.

The line is so common and so true to every phase of life that it is easy to overlook its classic origin from which it was borrowed in the identical language. We have it from Matthew vi, 24: "No man can serve two masters: For either he will hate the one, and love the other: or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

Barbara, the modern miss, was visiting her aged grandmother. During conversation the question of marriage arose. "What heavy, unwholesome things the old-fashioned wedding rings were," said the girl, catching sight of one on her grandmother's finger. "Yes, dear," was the reply, "but in my day they were made to last a lifetime."

Farmer Brown's Boy Finds Hooty's Nest

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Summer or Winter, Farmer Brown's Boy loves the Green Forest. He loves the Green Forest almost as much as those who live therein. So it is that whenever he has a chance he tramps through the Green Forest, always hoping to learn something more about the little people in feathers and fur who live there.

It was almost time for Sweet Mistress Spring to arrive, although there was still much snow and ice. Farmer Brown's boy knew that almost any day gentle Sister South Wind might come, and that one of the first things she would do would be to set the sap running up in the big sugar maples. Already everything at the sugar house was in readiness, and Farmer Brown's boy was looking eagerly to the work and fun of making maple sugar.

For a day or two there had been signs that gentle Sister South Wind was not far off. On this particular afternoon Farmer Brown's boy decided that he would visit the maple trees and tap two or three of them to see if the sap had started yet. He found that it hadn't, so he kept on just for the pleasure of a tramp in the Green Forest. Now there are few things which escape the sharp eyes of Farmer Brown's boy. Presently in a lonesome part of the Green Forest he discovered some queer little round things lying on the ground. He knew what they were the minute he saw them. He picked one up and broke it open. Inside there were some bits of bone. He had expected there would be.

Right away Farmer Brown's boy looked up in the top of that tall tree. He wasn't at all surprised to see a mass of sticks. It was a nest. At least it was meant to be a nest. But such a looking nest as it was! It seemed to be falling to pieces. It was the most disreputable kind of a nest—just such a looking nest as would be Redtail the Hawk's when it had not been used for two or three seasons, and so, of course, had not been repaired.

Farmer Brown's boy walked all around that tree, looking up

Farmer Brown's boy looked back at the little round things he had found on the ground. "I do believe," said he, "that Hooty the Owl is living here." You see he knew that those little round things could have come from no one but Hooty. Hooty, you know, gulps his food down, bones and all. Then inside him something funny takes place. The bones and the fur, or feathers, of his victims cannot be digested. Of course not. So down in his crop they are made into these queer little balls, like marbles, and these Hooty spits out quite as you spit out the pit from a cherry.

Farmer Brown's boy walked all around that tree, looking up. Presently he saw the end of a brown tail. Mrs. Hooty was at home. She was sitting on that nest.

ARRANGING FOR SPECIAL WEEK

Life Underwriters Hear Inspirational Address by W. Newell Weston

The Life Underwriters' Association of this city is planning a very active period which is to culminate in Life Insurance Week, which will be observed May 13-18 in Canada and the United States. Jack Barracough, chairman of the local committee in charge of the week's operations, addressed the underwriters yesterday in Speedie's Cafe, calling upon all members to co-operate in the carrying out of this special week in May.

His proposal was that special attention should be paid, in the celebration this year, to the policyholders and in this respect suggested that each of them should be contacted.

Mr. Barracough considered that it would be wise this year to give attention to the aspect of service in life insurance rather than from the selfish standpoint of the agent.

DOMINION PRESIDENT

On May 6 the Dominion president of the association is expected to be present and a grand reception is planned for him. The April meeting of the association will probably take the form of a smoker and be held in the evening.

The speaker at yesterday's meeting was W. Newell Weston, who spoke from the standpoint of salesmanship in the general sense rather than from the aspect of the insurance seller.

Mr. Weston said that salesmen at times arrived at a point where the limit seemed to be reached. The speaker declared they were wrong in that view. There was a solution for every problem. This was true with respect even to the depression through which they passed.

Everything created in a man's life was created within him and not outside. There was no limit just as Napoleon had said: "There are no Alps."

POSITIVE ATTITUDE

No one got to the end of his rope unless he admitted. Man was supposed to be superior to external influences. The negative attitude repelled. The negative attitude of mind should be altered to the positive attitude. The more the positive predominated, the more love and faith, that went so far to make a success of life, were involved in the undertaking.

The thanks of the meeting were conveyed to the speaker by Capt. A. M. Aitken.

PIONEER'S WIDOW DIES

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., March 28 (CP).—Mrs. Mary Deacon, eighty-two, widow of Captain Richard Deacon, volunteer in the two Riel rebellions and first certified steamboat captain on the Saskatchewan River, died here yesterday. She was born at Kildonan, Man., in 1852, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison McBeth, two of the original Selkirk settlers.

THE LOVE FLIGHT

by Joyce Kilmer

CHAPTER XXIX

Three days after Maida's visit to Anne at Bois Joli, front pages carried disastrous news to investors: "Suydam & Sons, Third Oldest Firm in Wall Street, Crashes!"

Anne did not read beyond the screaming headlines. She was prepared for it. There had been a scene when Maida came for Maida's answer to her frantic plea. Maida collapsed and demanded that Jock summon a nerve specialist by airplane from New York.

Jock snapped out of it. Jock was all right. Anne had smuggled him into Bois Joli two nights before and there had been a conference with "Papa" Hoag, in papa's own ballroom, over sausages and beer.

"He's taking me on as soon as I can get straightened out. Anne, I've seen it coming. I tried to put out my lines. Not a job for me and not only for me, but for jobs. I'm sorry about Maida's money. I didn't want to take it on. She raised the deuce until I did. She thought I could triple it. So did I. We made the wrong guess."

"Most of us do," Anne said.

"You're a great pal," Jock said. "Pay no attention to Maida. She's had too many gold spoons. Now she's going to use a tin one and like it."

"The top o' the mornin' to you, Fifi," Maida greeted Anne a day or two later. "I got good news for you. That fine young nephew of mine, Ralph, won't bother you any more."

"Madame—you mean—there's been an accident?" Anne was all sympathy.

"I don't think so," Madame chuckled. "Though it might have been an accident at that. Maybe he got him while he was in his cups. He's married that big husky that was down here—the pants one."

"The pants one?" Anne's thoughts flew to the day in the garden when she had overheard a conversation, the day Dolph had been ugly because he believed she was eavesdropping.

"Yep, the pants one. The one they called Biff. Don't care for the pants so much, but I like her for Dolph. They can use the same tailor. She's the only one I've seen can manage him. When he gets too smart alecky she wallops him. She's got a wallop like a mule's heel."

"I'm glad, Madame. Maybe he'll settle down, now that he has responsibilities of his own."

"Um, he'll settle down, all right," Madame wagged her head. "He'll settle down or get knocked down. Write the girl a check, Fifi. Tell her to get a wedding present—something for herself. Make it ten thousand. I owe her that much for taking him off my hands."

Anne went to open the desk. "Before you write that check," Madame went on, "ring up the Phoenix Employment Agency. Tell 'em I'm lookin' for a first-class chauffeur."

"Chauffeur?" Anne did not move. She could not.

"I can't twist my tongue with them French words, Fifi. You call it what you want to, only get one for me. I've lost the best showfur I ever had. The Case. You know, the one drives the blue car."

"You—you mean—something's happened to Case?" Anne wheeled. Her eyes were stricken.

It seemed an eternity before Madame answered. She was drinking her third cup of coffee, drinking with maddening deliberation.

"Nothing's happened," she said at last, "except he said he was leaving. He gave notice—let me see—why, yes—it was the day after you came back from that pearl mix-up. He left last night. Said he'd send me another man, but the fellow ain't shown up. Try to get some one, shall I? Into Case's clothes. Them uniforms are expensive."

"Very well, Madame."

Anne groped through the morning. Carl Case gone! Letters, checks, bills, all were a jumble. Would the luncheon hour never come?

"Never mind anything more now, Fifi," Madame said. Her sharp old eyes noted the girl's pallor. "You look kind of peak-ed, Fifi. Maybe you'd better take a rest for the day. I'm eating with papa, anyhow. We got things to talk over."

Anne went to her room. Her feet were heavy. When her door was safely closed behind her, one strangled sound escaped her lips. Then she flung herself on her bed and lay there, quiet, inert.

She roused herself at the sound of knocking on her door. The knocking became so insistent she knew it must be answered.

Bats was there, showing "unwanted alarm—for Bats."

"I've been rapping here for five minutes at least," Bats said. "I've been worried—she who brought up your lunch brought it back again. She said there was no answer, that you must be out. I was sure you didn't go out."

Anne closed the door behind Bats. "I felt—all in," she said tearlessly. "I've been resting."

"Maybe so," Bats said, eyeing Anne with disapproving nod. "If you been resting it don't seem to have done you good. You look like a spook. You ought to take something on your stomach, say an egg milkshake with a nip o' brandy in it."

Anne raised icy hands to a burning brow.

"I'll take it, Bats, if you think I should. Easier to accede than to argue. She was through with argument—through with putting up resistance. She was utterly inadequate, utterly futile, utterly lost. What was the use? When fate, when life turned its face against you—you were—lost."

Anne spent the night on the balcony outside her room. There was a wicker reclining chair, which might have been comfortable if there had been comfort in her. She looked at stars without seeing them. Listened to the song of the surf without hearing it. She was in a coma. The coma of defeat. She had lost her work. Yes, there was that. But why work in an empty world?
